MYSTERY FIND — Capt. Clifton Cortes of Fairfax police displays some of stocks and bonds which were turned over to him yesterday. He declined to give details of recovery of the papers, but said they were among loot in the Feb. 2 burglary of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Regalia. He said there was $35,000 in stocks and bonds. But Mrs. Regalia said only $2,200 worth was reported missing. (Independent-Journal photo)

$35,000 Stolen Stocks Recovered

The legacy of a Fairfax widow, reported to be $35,000 in stocks stolen from a homemade strongbox two months ago, returned yesterday as mysteriously as it disappeared.

Capt. Clifton Cordes of the Fairfax Police Department said that $35,000 worth of stocks was "recovered" about noon.

"Investigation is still going on and we don't want to give any other details," said Captain Cordes.

About 500 silver dollars, reported taken in the same burglary last Feb. 2, were still missing.

The stocks were stolen from the basement of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Regalia at 102 Willow avenue. Regalia owns Victor's Machine Shop in

San Rafael 'Quickie' Meet Held Invalid

At least one of the City of San Rafael's "quickie" meetings held this week is invalid, in the opinion of City Atty. Albert E. Bagshaw.

Legality of the other is in serious doubt.

Bagshaw said today he is preparing a formal opinion to the city council on last Monday's special meeting, called on three hours' notice to pass resolutions on a Bret Harte Heights assessment district road improvement. After studying the Brown Act and amendments to that act, the city atorney said, he feels the city council meeting held at 1 p.m. Monday is invalid.

The council, with Councilman Joseph F. Sauer absent, passed two resolutions to pave the way for a $6,000 road from Bret Harte road to connect with Alturas way in Greenbrae.

PLANNERS' MEETING

The second meeting, held by the San Rafael Planning Commission, came at 5 p.m. Monday with no notice at all. The planners approved a setback variance for Custom Builders' new apartment project on Canal street.

L. E. Weisenburg, president of San Rafael Newport Co., attended that meeting to ask about the setback and height variance granted at a December meeting. Weisenburg said he just happened to hear about the meeting in time make it, but he was not officially notified.

Weisenburg has hired a lawyer, David Baty, to challenge the legality of the planning commission's actions on the Custom Builders apartment building.

THREE STORIES

Weisenburg said he believes the area is zoned for two stories with a maximum 30-foot height. But the apart-

Brisk Opening For Novato Sales Event

Novato's semi-annual Silver Dollar Days sales event opened today, with merchants reporting a brisk first day business.

About 40 merchants are participating in the event, with many planning to keep their places of business open tomorrow night for the convenience of persons who cannot shop in the daytime.

Harley McAskill, chairman of the merchants committee of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, stressed today that merchandise being offered as Silver Dollar Days specials is not clearance merchandise, but has been ordered especially for the sales event.

Silver Dollar Days will continue through Saturday.

Ike Tells Allies To Gird For More Tension

Urges Free World Unity In NATO Anniversary Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower lauded the 10-year-old North Atlantic Treaty Organization today as a powerful barrier against communism, but cautioned the allies to prepare for more years of tension and bickering with the Soviet Union.

He called on the free world for unity, strength and perseverance to win the struggle for a true and lasting place despite the Communist "menace and threats."

'WILL NOT FAIL'

And he promised: "Those who respect the dignity of man will not fail before the magnitude of the task."

He offered every possible negotiation with the Soviet Union which holds "promise of constructive results." But he cautioned against the danger of "substituting illusion for reality."

The President, himself a former supreme commander of NATO military forces, was the central figure at the opening session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the NATO Council of Foreign Ministers.

AUDIENCE OF 1,400

Immediately before him was an audience of 1,400 cabinet members, allied diplomats, Western military leaders and representatives of the world press. Ranged in a semicircle on the stage behind him were the foreign ministers or other delegation chiefs of the 15 Allied governments, their flags colorful in the focus of floodlights with a blue and white NATO flag high over all at the rear of the stage.

Eisenhower and the other speakers — Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak and Council President Joseph M. A. H. Luns of the Netherlands—projected NATO's policy along double lines into the indefinite future.

They said the Communist threat is at least as great as it was 10 years ago so that NATO must strengthen itself. They stressed a need to negotiate solid agreements with the Soviet Union when possible.

Gate Bridge Death Leap Try Foiled

A suicide-bent San Francisco truck driver was dragged from a Golden Gate Bridge railing at 3 a.m. today as he clambered over the edge for the second time.

Robert Coffey, 33, told rescuers he hesitated for fear of being crippled instead of killed.

He was pulled to safety by Highway Patrolman John Halligan and Paul Itanen, a bridge tow truck operator.

The suicide attempt was interrupted the first time when Itanen, who was following Coffey's car at the suggestion of a suspicious bridge attendant, saw him stop at mid-span and climb on the railing.

When Itanen yelled, Coffey climbed back in his car, drove to the end of the bridge and back, and tried again. He hesitated when he found himself over land instead of water.

"I don't want to be crippled," he shouted as rescuers pulled him back.

He was sent to San Francisco Hospital for observation.

Coffey said he was despondent over marital problems. He said his wife, Mignon, 22, left him yesterday for the fifth time in their year-old marriage, taking their three-month-old daughter, Cynthia.

Woman Injured On Richardson Bridge

Mrs. Doris Carolyn Steele, 49-year-old San Rafael woman, suffered a head injury, cuts and bruises when her car went out of control on Richardson Bay Bridge at 5:50 p.m. yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Compromise Plan For Sandspit Development Urged

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night came up with its own solution to the dispute over a proposal for a swank restaurant and shops on the Sausalito sandspit.

The commission voted 7-0 to allow the commercial development if its is so placed as to allow approximately an acre of the area, including the tip, for recreational use.

The recommendation will be presented to the city council meeting next Tuesday evening in Central School auditorium.

A standing-room-only audience heard the planners agree to a recommendation on the controversial issue which stressed that previous studies "indicated a serious deficiency of parks and recreational facilities in the city" and that the sandspit offered an ideal location for such facilities.

PLANS RESTAURANT

A San Francisco group headed by restaurateur J. Eugene McAteer has proposed subleasing three acres of the sandspit from Madden and Lewis, proposing to construct a restaurant on the tip.

The planner, however, recommended that the tip be maintained for public use, suggesting that the proposed structure be placed closer to the shore on the "inboard" side facing yacht harbor.

Such a move, the planners noted, would reduce the contemplated access road area but would increase the landscaped and public use space and "preserve the feeling of an open and natural shoreline."

NO ELIMINATION

The commission made it clear that it was not advocating elimination of commercial development of the sandspit.

"The combination of public usage for general recreational purposes and a compatible commercial usage," the planners agreed, "would provide an answer to the public need for recreational areas and at the same time provide opportunity for commercial interests to obtain an attractive return on their invested capital."

One of the prime objections which has been voiced by those opposing the McAteer proposal has been that commercial development would choke off public access to the tip.

The plan recommended by the planners would answer this objection.

McATEER'S VIEW

At the latest city council meeting, McAteer insisted the city's job was to merely determine whether it would approve execution of a sublease between himself and Madden and Lewis, with consideration of a use permit or land usage to follow.

Opposing forces, spearheaded by City Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., took the reverse viewpoint.

The planning commission also tacked on a proviso that any construction and development should proceed with planning commission advice and counsel.

Although both J. Herbert Madden and William E. McDonnell, McAteer's associate, were present, they did not directly oppose the commission's recommendation.

Hollis Indicates He Won't Cut Wage Of Staff

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis indicated to the Marin County Labor Council last night that he plans to accede to demands of the county board of education that there be no pay cuts for his staff.

Hollis was speaker at the labor council meeting in San Rafael, reviewing the operations of his office.

He told the union delegates that it now appears that his staff will be paid at 94 per cent of an "ideal" salary schedule adopted last year. This will mean raises for all except the top administrators, whose salaries will be unchanged.

The superintendent had proposed to the county board of education that salaries be cut back to 91 per cent of the "ideal" schedule as a means of balancing a budget depleted by loss of state funds because

Mercury Up As High As 89 In Marin

No fooling, it was hot yesterday.

In fact, it was the warmest day this year so far in several parts of Marin County.

A reading of 89 degrees was taken on the thermometer at the John H. Flint home at 8 Leeward road in Belvedere. The Marin County Fire Department reported 86 degrees at Woodacre, a high for 1959. It was also the highest April 1 since their records were started at the fire station in 1950.

A temperature of 86 was also registered on the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn.'s giant thermometer on San Rafael's Fourth street.

Novato was several degrees warmer than its previous 1959 high, with 84 degrees. Terra Linda and Mill Valley measured 83 and San Anselmo 80, a few degrees lower than earlier recordings this year.

Head Injuries In Fall Prove Fatal To Hamilton Airman

An 18-year-old Hamilton Air Force Base airman died early today of head injuries suffered last night in a fall in a washroom at the base.

The victim, A1/c Thomas N. Roach, was assigned to Hamilton's 78th Installations Squadron and had been serving as an apprentice fireman with the base fire department.

A witness, Dale Corbin of Santa Rosa, civilian fire department employee, told officials at the base he entered the washroom just as Roach "suddenly stiffened" and fell backward, striking his head on the floor.

Roach was given emergency treatment at Hamilton and taken to Letterman Army Hospital in San Francisco. The accident occurred at about 11:48 p.m. Roach died at 4:30 a.m. today.

Officials at Letterman said he was unconscious from the moment of the fall, and had suffered a massive fracture of the right side of his skull, so severe that had a neurosurgeon been at his side at the moment of the accident he could not have saved the airman's life.

Roach was unmarried. He had been in the Air Force a little more than a year, and was stationed at Hamilton for 11 months. His next of kin was listed on hospital records as his father, Truman N. Johnson of Dallas, Tex.

Red Chinese Say Lama Is In India

Rebellion Reported Resuming

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) —The Dalai Lama to Tibet was reported today to have escaped his Chinese Communist pursuers and crossed the border into India.

The Chinese Communists said in a Peiping radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo that the young Dalai Lama was accompanied into India Tuesday by some of the rebels who took part in the fighting at Lhasa, Tibet's capital city, nearly two weeks ago.

The Communist report came soon after informed sources in New Delhi reported renewed fighting had broken out between rebels and the Chinese Communists in an area southeast of Lhasa.

'UNDER DURESS'

Peiping Radio said the Dalai Lama entered India "under duress by the rebellious elements." The Communists have charged all along that the young god-king did not really want to leave Lhasa. Their latest broadcast implied that he was a virtual captive of the rebels.

Indian border police were said by Peiping to be on their way to meet the Dalai Lama.

Renewed fighting in southeast Tibet was said to have begun yesterday. when the Communists directed heavy fire against pockets of rebel Khamba tribesmen. The Communists were said to be dropping paratroopers over a wide area of southeastern Tibet.

NEW TROUBLE

The Chinese garrison in Gyantse, 100 miles southwest of Tibet, was said to be preparing for new trouble with rebel elements.

Reports from Kalimpong on the Indian border said Lhasa airport was humming with the drone of small planes, and highways surrounding the Tibetan capital were jammed with troops sent there by the Communists.

In the Indian protectorate of Bhutan, just south of the area where new fighting was reported to have broken out, the small kingdom's entire militia of 5,000 men was mobilized to meet the threat of possible trouble at the Tibetan border.

Prime Minister Jigme Dorje of Bhutan said Bhutan would give the Dalai Lama temporary asylum should he ask for it, but it was clear the Bhutanese feared Chinese Communist reprisals if the "precious godling" were allowed to stay very long in the small nation.

REALTY BOARD HONOR

Enemark Named 'Man Of Year'

Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and last year's president of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, was named today as Marin's "Man of the Year" by the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Announcement of Enemark's designation for the honor was made at a luncheon meeting of the board at Trader Horn in San Rafael.

Jerry Stone, who headed the selection committee, said Enemark was chosen from a list of "very worthy candidates" because "he was not only an outstanding citizen for the past several years, but he was particularly outstanding during the year of 1958."

The award was the fifth in the annual program honoring outstanding Marin citizens. Last year's winner was Joseph Brusatori, juvenile officer on the San Rafael police force.

"It is our desire to select someone who has not been a self-seeker of praise," said Stone. "Fred so personifies that type of an individual that I doubt if many of you realize the wonderful work that he has done for this community over the past 10 years and particularly during the year of 1958 . . .

FRED F. ENEMARK
Many roles during '58

"As president of the chamber of commerce, he brought about a greater understanding between that organization and the city council that has resulted in the two working in harmony to accomplish more for our city than could otherwise be done."

Stone pointed to the Marin Visitors' Bureau, the Forward San Rafael Assn. and Farm-City Week as accomplishments during Enemark's chamber of

It was "orchids (and gardenias and carnations) to you" for Marin women shopping San Rafael stores this morning as Red Tag Days, traditional big three-day spring sale, opened at 55 business places.

And at least one store found shoppers waiting in line for the flowers—and the bargains—when the store opened.

Throughout the business district, proprietors of stores cooperating in the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event reported happily of big crowds and plenty of buying.

LINE-UP AT DOOR

There was a line-up at the door of the Marcus Men's Shop when the store was opened for business, said owner Warren Marcus—"an unusual situation."

Marcus called it "a very satisfactory beginning for Red Tag Days."

"All our customers certainly loved the orchids we gave them," said Francis Fogarty, manager of P. C. Penney Co.'s San Rafael store. He reported a "very, very good start" for the sale, with business steady all morning.

FLORAL GIFTS

One thousand of the blooms were given away to early-bird customers at participating stores this morning. Another 1,000 will be given away tomorrow, with the sale continuing through Saturday and stores open until 9 o'clock tomorrow night.

THIS 'RESCUE' REALLY GOT THEIR GOAT

BOISE, Ida. (AP) — An unidentified fisherman called the sheriff's office last night. He had heard a voice calling for help on the other side of the Boise River west of here.

Sheriff's officers sent to the scene heard the voice too. They called for more help. Soon about 200 deputies and volunteers were clambering along the steep banks.

The voice complicated the search. It would stop for long periods.

Near midnight, officers pinpointed the area. Then they found the object of their search.

It was a goat.

Rocket Plane In Second Air Test

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The rocket-powered research plane X15 has successfully completed its second captive test flight.

Yesterday, with North American Aviation test pilot Scott Crossfield in its cockpit, the X15 was hitched under the right wing of a B52 bomber. It was taken to 38,000 feet altitude at a speed of 500 miles an hour.

Ultimately the research craft is expected to rocket alone to an altitude of 100 miles at speeds up to 4,000 miles an hour.

The first test March 10 had to be cut short because of communications difficulties. The tests were designed primarily to check instrumentation and communication systems.

Glide tests will be conducted in advance of any powered flight.

Club At Stinson Beach Asks Traffic Study

Members of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club last night voted to ask the county board of supervisors to investigate the acute summer traffic problem at Stinson Beach and take some corrective traffic control measures.

Mrs. Walter Marble was elected secretary, in place of Edward Leslie, who resigned because of illness.

Radio Panel Debates Civic Center Issue

An argument that Marin County voters should decide whether the county should build a multi-million-dollar civic center at Santa Venetia was countered today with an expression of faith in representative government.

To the declaration by Eugene Neuschwander of Greenbrae that "any project of this size—estimated at from 14 to 19 million dollars—should be determined by ballot," County Administrator Donald A. Jensen countered: "The essence of democracy, that we all believe in, is based on representative government. The issue should not be placed on the ballot."

The opinions were expressed during the hour-long program, "Marin Sounding Board," moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, on radio station KTIM. It will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Agreeing with Jensen was County Supervisor James A. Marshall. Agreeing with Neuschwander, who is chairman of a citizens committee opposing the civic center, was another Greenbrae resident, John Streiff, secretary-treasurer of the committee.

Marshall said an opinion by the county counsel is that "the only legal way to present the issue to the voters would be to present it in the form of a proposed bond issue. And the board has already decided that the best method of financing is a pay-as-you-go method out of taxes."

If the people do not want to abide by the decisions made by the supervisors, said Marshall, they are not abiding by "the basic law of the U. S. and of the County of Marin."

To a radio listener's question, "Should the supervisors be recalled if they refuse to place the civic center issue on the ballot?" Marshall replied, 'That's the privilege of the people."

Neuschwander added, "Recall is a good idea if they refuse to put it on the ballot."

Streiff protested that only information favorable to the civic center has been getting to the public.

Streiff claimed much of the proposed civic center development consists of "luxury items," encouraged by the availability of state funds.

"In Marin County, taxes must be spent wisely," he stressed. "The present civic center plan is one for a county that already has everything else—which we don't."

Jensen denied that the public has had little chance to see both sides of the case and that the costs of the center are exorbitant.

"During all of the procedures leading up to the board of supervisors' decision of how to finance the center," said Jensen, "there have been countless public hearings."

Neuschwander complained that letters he wrote to county officials had been insufficiently and that the officials had "clammed up" when asked about public funds.

Cost of building the civic center has been estimated at $23.10 per square foot, said Jensen, whereas cost of building the county courthouse annex came to $23.68 per square foot.

Jensen also argued in favor of diversified methods of financing for county projects—"such as bond issues for road projects and direct taxes for the civic center."

"But we find," countered Streiff, "that the county uses bond issues on projects where there is little opposition and direct taxes on projects that can't win voter approval."

Stamp Honoring NATO Goes On Sale In Marin

A new commemorative four-cent postage stamp, honoring the 10th anniversary of signing of the North Atlantic Treaty, went on sale at the San Rafael Post Office today.

The stamp, in "Famous American" size and printed in blue, features the four-pointed star of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, with the words "United for Freedom—NATO—1949-1959." Initial order was for 120 million.

Postmaster Warren H. Williams noted that the stamp originally was scheduled for first day sale Saturday in Washington, D. C., to go on sale in other post offices Monday, but the Post Office Department moved up the first day sale to yesterday and general sale today.

NEW PHONE BOOKS DUE NEXT WEEK

That favorite local book of names and numbers will be arriving next week.

It is the 1959 edition of the Marin County telephone directory. The 60,400 books will be hand delivered April 7 through April 10, said L. T. Marshall, district manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Marshall called attention to the opening pages of the book, which show police and fire department emergency numbers as well as phone service information.

The new directories, 83 tons of them, feature a cover illustration of the projected Marin County Civic Center and Fairgrounds.

Marin County's rapid growth has made its phone book grow, too. The book's 43,218 alphabetical listings represent an increase of 2,285 listings.

Prayer Can Avert War, Says Graham

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham arrived here from Australia tonight and told a welcoming crowd that world prayer could avert a third world war.

"I am certain that if Christians in China, Russia, the United States, Europe and around the world united in prayer and put the emphasis on spiritual things, we could avert war," Graham said.

About 3,000 persons greeted Graham when he drove into the city from the airport at midnight. He begins a six-day campaign tomorrow.

Car, Stopped For Kids Hit In Rear; Man Hurt

Anthony Gallo, 43, salesman of 422 Madrone avenue, Larkspur, suffered neck and possible internal injuries today in a two-car accident in front of Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Larkspur police said Gallo stopped his southbound car at the crosswalk in front of the school to allow children to cross Magnolia avenue. The car was struck from the rear by an auto driven by Mrs. Carole Richardson, 22, of 659 Magnolia avenue, Larkspur. Mrs. Richardson told police her brakes failed.

Joseph Wagner, crossing guard, said none of the children crossing was hit by the Gallo car. He said it appeared that Gallo kept his foot on the brake. He said he believed there was one child walking ahead of the car at the time of the accident.

Gallo was taken to Marin General Hospital by Marin Ambulance.

Police Chief Howard Clark said Mrs. Richardson suffered a bump on her forehead. He said no citation has been issued, pending further investigation.

Fast Train Derails In Iowa; 11 Hurt

ATKINS, Iowa (AP)—The swift Milwaukee Road Arrow, with 96 sleeping passengers aboard, was derailed in the Atkins railroad yards early today.

Authorities said 11 persons — nine passengers and two crewmen—were taken to St. Luke's Hospital in nearby Cedar Rapids. At least 20 other passengers were bruised and shaken up, but did not require hospitalization.

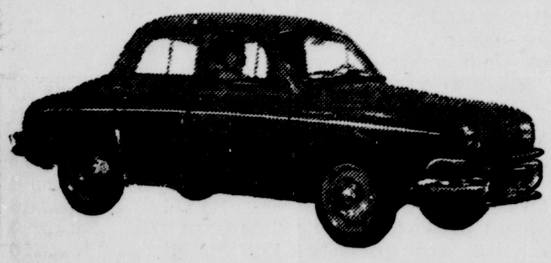

The Chicago-bound Arrow, one of the Milwaukee Road's finest trains, was made up of two coaches, a pullman, three baggage and mail cars, and a twin diesel unit.

All cars except the first diesel unit were derailed but remained upright. The skidding cars tore up about 1,600 feet of track on the main line.

New Company Forming To Give Financial Boost To Small Business

San Rafael soon will be the home base of a new company which is prepared to give small businesses a financial boost in Marin and Sonoma Counties.

The firm, now in the process of incorporating, is the Marin-Sonoma Small Business Investment Co. of San Rafael. It is the first company in Northern California to be accepted by the Small Business Administration, a federal agency, for its new program of providing long-term capital to small firms.

Harold L. (Bud) Moose Jr. of Kentfield is executive manager of the company, which will open in about six weeks after receiving a license from the SBA.

NINE DIRECTORS

Moose, one of the company's nine directors, has been a public accountant and business consultant in San Rafael since 1945 and a Marin resident since 1931.

Other directors are William H. McDevitt and S. K. Herzog Jr. of San Rafael, Louis M. Getz and Benjamin J. Baum of San Anselmo, Edward Smith of Manor, William T. Brantman of Belvedere, Milton I. Mack of Mill Valley and Henry Schoenfeld of San Francisco.

Officers will be elected after the firm has incorporated.

Scores of other small business investment companies, known as SBICs, are being formed throughout the U.S. Like the new Marin-Sonoma firm, they need only final clearance and licensing by the Small Business Administration to get started.

APPROVED BY CONGRESS

The SBIC program was approved by Congress last year as a means of helping small businesses obtain equity capital and long-term financing on roughly the same terms as big business. SBICs are required to have at least $300,000 in capital, but half of this is available from the SBA.

"What it amounts to, briefly, is that the federal government goes into partnership with us and we, in turn, go into partnership with many businesses," Moose explained. "There is tremendous nationwide enthusiasm for the program."

The SBA's Northern California-Nevada-Hawaii regional office alone has received more than 4,000 inquiries about the program, according to Moose. He said the Marin-Sonoma firm was the first to file for a license and the first to be authorized for one.

NEED FOR SERVICE

"We made a survey and found a need for this type of service in the Marin-Sonoma area," Moose said. "And we conferred with local bankers and business leaders who agreed it would be a mutually advantageous program."

Moose said the Marin-Sonoma Small Business Investment Co. will provide risk capital or long-term loans needed for starting a new business or expanding one. He noted that banks, not permitted by law to do this, can enter the picture later with short-term money under the traditional type of financing.

"We will invest funds primarily through debentures which will be convertible to common stock," Moose said. "A maximum of $60,000 will be available to any one enterprise either by loan or capital stock."

He said the company also will perform business counseling and appraising services.

Richard L. Shirley, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, said today he believes the new venture will be "good for Marin County." He said a number of Marin firms with good growth potential currently are operating on short funds and can't expand as rapidly as they might.

"This should help them greatly," Shirley declared.

Edgewater Inn Leased By Santa Rosan

Operation of the Edgewater Inn at Corte Madera changed hands today as James Stockman of Santa Rosa, who is co-owner of the Flamingo Hotels, took over on a 10-year lease.

Frank and Edna Rusalem, developers of the Corte Madera Center who have operated the inn since it was opened three years ago, announced the lease. Financial details were not disclosed.

Stockman, 39-year-old developer, said the Edgewater will be operated separately from the Flamingo Garden Hotels in Santa Rosa and Red Bluff. Roland G. Reading of Oakland was named manager.

Stockman said that in addition to the Olympic sized swimming pool, other outdoor recreation facilities will be installed at the inn "to make it one of the outstanding garden motels in Northern California."

French Restaurant To Open In San Rafael

A new French restaurant, La Petite Auberge (the Little Inn), will open at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the building formerly occupied by the Red Fox Restaurant at 704 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Partners Mr. and Mrs. Paul Devaux and Pierre Flobert have been Bay Area residents since 1956, coming from France by way of Bermuda, where both Devaux and Flobert were cooks at the Castle Harbour Hotel for five years. In France they had experience in restaurant work in Centre, near Vichy.

Devaux also served as cook for a year and one-half at the Ondine Restaurant in Sausalito, and at the Romanoff Restaurant in San Francisco for a year. Flobert was formerly cook with the recently opened Pierre's Restaurant in Sausalito and at San Francisco restaurants.

La Petite Auberge will be open from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. for luncheon service and from 5:30 to 10 p.m. for dinners. It will be closed one day a week.

Devaux and Flobert will serve as cooks. Mrs. Flobert will be hostess, and two waitresses have been hired to serve tables.

Industrial Employment High In State

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California industrial employment picture for the beginning of a year never looked better than last February, the state Department of Labor Statistics reported today.

The department said 4,478,000 wage and salary workers were on the job in February—an all-time high for the month.

Every major industrial division reported higher employment than for the same period in 1958, with the exception of transportation, communications and utilities.

The largest employment steps were made in manufacturing, trade and civil service, the department said.

Non-farm employment between January and February increased more than 20,000, according to the department.

It said that even the motion picture industry, stunted somewhat by the advent of television, showed an increase in seasonal expansion and production.

San Francisco ranks first among the leading cities in the nation in population gain per square mile.

FEP Bill Clears Another Hurdle

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The fair employment practices bill, weighted with amendments which its author charged "emasculated" the legislation, cleared another major hurdle in the Legislature today.

The Senate Finance Committee, on a voice vote, approved the anti-job-discrimination measure, a top priority item in Gov. Edmund G. Brown's legislative program.

The bill was cleared for debate on the Senate floor after the adoption of a series of amendments by Sen. Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), president pro tempore of the upper house.

Wine Held Helpful In Preventing Artery Hardening

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Experiments at the University of California indicate that inclusion of wine in animal diets may help prevent arteriosclerosis and atherosclerosis, the medical terms for hardening of the arteries, a meeting of 146 physicians was told here last night by Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan, one of the world's most noted nutritionists.

Dr. Morgan, professor emeritus in biochemistry at the University of California, has been testing the role of wine nutrition since 1938.

She disclosed that significantly lower levels of cholesterol, the fatty substance that deposits inside blood vessels and causes them to harden, were found in the liver's adrenals and blood of rats and hamsters fed with wine compared with those of animals that drank equivalent solutions of alcohol and water, and that the most cholesterol was deposited by "control" animals that drank only water.

RED TAG

Credit Jewelers, noted "unusually heavy numbers of people downtown shopping for a Thursday morning" and said the sale was "doing all right" in its first morning.

Abe Bolga, partner in California Furniture Co., reported business "definitely on the increase." L. P. Morris, manager of Royce Department Store, said the morning's business was "not too exciting" but "we're sure there'll be bigger crowds this afternoon."

Besides free posies, free merchandise orders were being given away. Two women, whose picture—with faces blanked out—appeared yesterday and Tuesday in the Independent-Journal were visiting stores and mingling with customers. Anyone recognizing either of them as "Miss Red Tag Days" receives a merchandise order.

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce reported that, of 60 persons called by telephone yesterday, six responded by answering the phone: "Red Tag Days Are Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday." Their reward: free merchandise orders. The six winners were Mrs. Louise Conn of Marin City; Mrs. T. J. Lehman, 23 Acacia avenue, Belvedere; Mrs. Harry Richard, 31 Acacia avenue, Belvedere; Mrs. Cora Everett, 597 Kernberry drive, Marinwood; Mrs. Michael Finn, 315 Greenfield avenue, San Anselmo, and Mrs. Joan Zerbe, 10 Tamalpais avenue, Larkspur.

Park Unit To Tour Recreation Areas

Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission members will tour county-owned recreation areas Saturday to see what improvements can be made.

The commission met last night at 1711 Grand avenue in San Rafael and decided to start the Saturday tour at 9 a.m. Areas included in the tour are Drake's Bay Beach, McClure's Beach, Bolinas Park, and the Stinson Beach area.

Mrs. Wayne Tharp, secretary, said the purpose of the tour is to see the existing facilities, many of which are poorly maintained, as a prelude to planning efforts to make them more attractive and useful to the public.

During the tour, the commission may set a special meeting to discuss the preliminary budget for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

TELL WEDDING PLANS—Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher hold hands as they disclosed last night they will wed in six weeks if Debbie Reynolds will give her consent to a quickie Nevada divorce. Couple made disclosure after she came out of seclusion to attend Fisher's opening at the Tropicana Hotel in Las Vegas last night. She wears Fisher's diamond engagement bracelet. (AP Wirephoto)

Eddie To Ask Debbie For Nevada Divorce So He Can Marry Liz

LAS VEGAS (UPI) — Singer Eddie Fisher says he will ask Debbie Reynolds today for a quickie Nevada divorce so he can wed actress Elizabeth Taylor in six weeks.

Miss Reynolds, mother of the singer's two children, once before has turned down his plea to get a Nevada divorce. They have a California divorce which does not become final for one year.

The 27-year-old Miss Taylor flashed a 50-diamond bracelet engagement present from Fisher at the opening of his appearance at the Tropicana Hotel last night and made the first public announcement of their marriage plans.

"We are very much in love and we're going to travel together extensively," she said. "And we'd like to travel as man and wife."

The thrice-married actress said she thought 26-year-old Miss Reynolds would now consent to a Nevada divorce.

"Her first reaction was one of hurt which is understandable," said Miss Taylor. "But the hurt has left. She has behaved admirably and in brave fashion."

Miss Taylor said she would leave for Spain in May to make a motion picture and then would travel to London. Fisher said he would be going to Spain and London "at the same time."

Fisher, 30, said just before the start of his late second show:

"Debbie gets back from Spain today and I will ask her for her consent again."

Under Nevada law, both parties must consent to a divorce before a decree is issued at the end of six weeks residence. If one of the parties objects, a regular divorce trial would have to be held.

Miss Reynolds was asked less than a month ago—March 3—by Fisher to consent to a Nevada divorce. She refused.

She filed for divorce and received a default interlocutory decree in Los Angeles March 19 as well as a whopping property settlement said to amount up to one million dollars in 10 years, plus custody of the two children.

Meeting Set On Garbage Problems

A meeting on county garbage disposal problems in general and the Dano disposal process in particular has been called by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

Invited to attend the session are representatives of Marin's nine cities, Dano Corp of America, various local scavenger firms and the Smith brothers, who operate a fill-and-cover dump at Burdell. Date for the meeting will be set by County Clerk George S. Jones.

The decision to call it was made after Mario J. Lamperti, San Rafael businessman who represents Dano, told the board the firm is prepared to build a million-dollar plant for processing the county's wet garbage. The Dano method converts garbage into low grade compost.

"We would like a franchise providing that all the wet garbage be delivered to us for this process," Lamperti told the supervisors.

The board members agreed that ramifications of the Dano proposal must be considered around the conference table before a decision can be made.

Persons may enroll and apply for credit at the San Rafael High School Monday or Wednesday evening, Royle said. There is no charge for the classes.

Persuasive Fellow

CANFIELD, Ohio (AP)—If he's as good an engineer as he is at engineering, Paul Springer Jr. of Canfield should do well. JUST ANOTHER PARTY

Blase Moppets Take Lavish Fete In Stride

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Kid parties have become so sophisticated that Tinsel Town's sandpile set is bored before reaching teen-age.

Take the fancy soiree 12-year-old Francesca Hilton—Zsa Zsa Gabor's daughter—splashed this week for 17 hula-hoopsters. It was a lavish blowout worthy of her mother's better efforts for adults.

Francesca turned 12 at a dinner party in a fashionabe Cantonese - style restaurant, complete with "cocktails"—non-alcoholic variety.

Her guests were dressed in Hawaiian costumes and presented with carnation leis upon arrival.

Cocktails—Fruit punch in pineapple shells for the boys and cocoanut cups for their dates—were served at 7 p.m. Hors d'oeuvres included crab legs marinier, barbecued spareribs, Malayan tidbits, fried shrimp. There also was a delicacy exotically called bongo-bongo.

The kids took it all in stride. Well-mannered and somewhat bored, they didn't bat an eye when the entree arrived.

Their sophisticated little palates were treated to Indonesian lamb roast, fugi beef, asparagus tips and chicken with almonds. That's eating high on the hog in any league, but it appeared to be old stuff to the celebrants.

More excited than the youngsters was Mama Zsa Zsa, who flitted from guest to guest making sure everyone was enjoying himself.

"Every year I try to have a different theme for Francesca's parties," she said. "I probably have more fun than the children.

"Last year it was a black-tie party, the year before a surprise costume party. In 1956 it was a circus affair, and in 1955 we came up with a cowboy party. They've all been delightful successes."

Zst Zst reflected a moment and guessed Francesca's most unusual birthday bash was a gambling party in Las Vegas when her daughter was 5.

New Street Lights Due In Larkspur

New street lights, a stop sign and a public address system were approved last night by the Larkspur City Council.

The council approved an agreement with Pacific Gas and Electric Co. to install 14 new sodium vapor street lights along Magnolia avenue. Twelve of the lights will be in the north Magnolia business district. One will be placed at the entrance to Hillview Gardens subdivision and the 14th on a sharp curve of Magnolia near Escalle.

ADDRESS SYSTEM

Purchase of a new public address system for the council chambers was approved, with cost estimated at $250. Councilmen said the purchase was based on audience complaints of being unable to hear the council.

The new stop sign will be placed on a traffic island at the entrance to Kent Woodlands to stop northbound traffic on Magnolia which intends a left turn at the intersection. Through northbound traffic will be routed around the left turn lane and will not be affected by the stop sign.

NEW FIGURES

The council approved a request from the Larkspur and Corte Madera Merger Study Committees for council action on obtaining updated financial figures. The council voted to request in writing updated figures from the Corte Madera council.

Approved also last night was legislation by the League of California Cities to add a one-cent tax on gasoline, which would be split on a six-to-four basis with the counties in the state, the cities receiving the larger portion.

NO SCHOOL BUS PROBLEM HERE

These children at Guiglia, near Modena in northern Italy, have no bus to carry them to school. In fact, there has not been a bridge over the Panaro River since World War II. So, to make their way to school each day they use a chair lift arrangement, the only link between the town and the countryside across the river. (AP Wirephoto)

Protests Overruled On Assessment District

The Mill Valley City Council last night voted 4-0 to overrule protests against formation of the Bolsa avenue street and sewer assessment district.

Councilman Elizabeth Rodman abstained from voting.

Proponents on one side of the council chamber contended that owners of 52 per cent of the property in the proposed district favored the job, estimated by City Engineer Albert H. Siemer to cost $22,700, and that work should proceed.

The opposition, grouping its forces on the opposite side of the aisle, argued that anticipated assessments were not proper and that the sewer work should be carried on as a separate district.

Mayor Robert D. Huber endeavored to pacify the objectors, pointing out that when individual assessments are determined, protestants will again have an opportunity to be heard.

Action on a request by the Mill Valley Garbage Co. for a rate increase of 15 cents monthly to households and 15 per cent to commercial users was postponed pending receipt of a report from City Treasurer Edward H. Daniel.

Attorney Robert H. Andresen, appearing for the company, complained at the delay, but was told that Daniel required additional data from the company to complete his report.

Although Andresen insisted that the council inform him as to what type of information was required, Mayor Huber suggested that Andresen consult with Daniel.

The council also.

1. Put over to April 15 a report from engineer Siemer on a city-wide drainage control program.
2. Postponed action on proposed ordinances on loitering and carrying weapons, pending a complete study by City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson and Police Chief James F. McGowan.
3. Introduced an ordinance permitting the city to collect dog license fees from residents outside the city limits.
4. Approved drafts of the revised building code and excavation ordinances and instructed Nelson to proceed with legal drafts of both for presentation at the next meeting.
5. Approved plans for abandonment of a lane between Rose and Hazel avenues.
6. Agreed to purchase at $250 a wedge of property on Miller avenue owned by Henrietta Rush and in use for street purposes.
7. Postponed until May 6 action on a letter from Deputy County Counsel Robert A. Smallman on mutual aid and cooperation between fire districts and cities. Mayor Huber asked postponement to permit further discussion at the Marin County Council of Mayors meeting on April 29.
8. Approved increasing membership on the architectural advisory subcommittee from seven to eight. Mayor Huber appointed Sim Van Der Ryn to a vacancy on the board and added architect Robert Mountjoy.
9. Approved a new scale of rates for use of the city-owned golf clubhouse, including fees to be charged to such groups as Boy and Girl Scouts, service clubs and private parties. The new rates are to be effective July 1.
10. Was notified of a 25 per cent increase in the cost of legal advertising in the Mill Valley Record.
11. Was notified by the State Compensation Insurance Fund that a premium refund of $2,964 has been made to the city, representing 49 per cent of the premium. The city was complimented on its excellent safety record. City Manager A. E. Almcrants called attention to the fact that two years ago there was no refund.
12. Approved payment of warrants totaling $21,153.

Kids Invited To Dance Exhibition

The National Smooth Dancers, Inc., are out to wean teen-agers away from rock 'n' roll.

Leaders among Mill Valley's teen set are being invited to an exhibition of smooth ballroom dancing Saturday starting at 9 p.m. in the Mill Valley American Legion Hall, William Woods, Mill Valley member of the Smooth Dancers, said today.

Woods said the affair is open to the public.

"We hope to show our teenagers that smooth ballroom dancing is fun, is beautiful and is aways popular," he declared.

Woods said three exhibition teams from San Francisco will be present to demonstrate smooth dancing: Cliff and Lee Isaak, Duke and Babe York, and the Bolletins.

Western-Style 'Opera' To End Concert Series

A lively "western opera" will close this year's Music for Minors concert series Saturday morning at the San Rafael High School auditorium, and will be, according to director Barry Mineah, the most ambitious and exciting of the three programs presented this season.

The program will have two performances, starting at 10 and 11 a.m.

Starring members of the Boys' Choir of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour in Mill Valley, the show will present a "western translation" of the components of grand opera.

COMMUNITY SING

For the "overture," director Mineah will invite the audience of grade and pre-school children (and their parents) to share in the fun by learning four western tunes—"Chisholm Trail," "Oh Susanna," "Bury Me Not on the Lone Prairie" and "Clementine"—and join in singing them during the musical drama.

A "chorus," or second opera component, will feature the boys' choir in "Camptown Races."

"Evening on the Prairie," the "aria" following, will be enhanced by a "real" campfire on stage and Alan Pike's vocal version of "Red River Valley." Alan will accompany himself on the guitar.

'GUN BATTLE'

The "recitative" will star director Mineah and Jim Sullivan in a "singing gun battle," complete with shots.

Sullivan and Mineah will further act out the woeful story of "Clementine," accompanied by the boys' choir. The finale will get the entire cast on stage for a hoe-down square dance.

After the finale, a brief resume of former Music for Minor programs will end with the audience singing "Frere Jacque."

Mrs. Hugh Shippey Jr., chairman of the Music for Minors unit of the Symphony Guild of Marin, has expressed the Symphony Guild's delight with the enthusiastic audience reception accorded this year's Music for Minors series.

The audience, always an important part of the program, has played a starring role this year, according to Mrs. Shippey. "They've been in fine voice—laughed at all the right times and—" she added, "—come back for more."

Single tickets for Saturday's shows will be sold at the box office of the high school auditorium.

Japan TV-Happy

TOKYO (UPI)—The April 10 wedding of Crown Prince Akihito and commoner Miss Michiko Shoda was credited today with stimulating television set sales in Japan to a record monthly high of 200,000 in March.

Officials said set buyers apparently wanted to be sure of seeing the wedding procession and several other features of the royal event which will be televised.

National Cub Chief Talks To Marinites

One hundred persons, adult leaders in Marin Cub Scouting, last night were advised by O. W. Bennett, national director of Cub Scouting service for Boy Scouts of America, to remember that Cub Scout age is "a time for building dreams."

Too often, said Bennett, adults are inclined to insist on perfection from boys 8, 9 and 10 years old. "But in their craft projects," he asserted, "boys are building dreams, not things."

The occasion was the monthly Marin County Cub leaders' roundtable at Scout Hall in San Rafael. Bennett spoke for an hour to den mothers, Cubmasters and pack committeemen.

The Cub program should be designed "to help build the dreams in the land of make-believe in which boys live," he stressed.

Bennett was to speak again today at 2 p.m. at a tea honoring den mothers of Marin at the San Rafael Improvement Club.

San Rafael High Graduation Set

The San Rafael High School athletic field will be the site of graduation exercises on June 19 for 250 seniors.

The 8 p.m. exercises will be held at the same place as last June's graduation which was attended by 2,500 persons, said Principal Ralph Phelps.

Tryouts will be held soon for student speakers. To be awarded June 19 are departmental winners of proficiency citations, winner of the highest scholarship award life members in the California Scholarship Federation, and announcement of college scholarships.

McCarthy Urged To Support FEP

State Sen. John F. McCarthy has been urged by the Marin County Democratic Central Committee to support two proposed "fair employment practices" bills before the Legislature.

A letter signed by Nancy Swadesh, executive director of the committee, asks McCarthy to support Assembly Bills 91 and 93, soon to be before the Senate after already being approved by the Assembly.

The committee has often been on record as supporting bills outlawing discrimination on the basis of race, creed or color, states the letter.

Population, Land Values Soaring As Tahoe Rides Crest Of Boom

AL TAHOE (AP)—A boomlet which attracted some national attention two years ago has grown into a Big Daddy boom of scenic proportions on the south shores of Lake Tahoe.

You can't buy a foot of lake frontage, unless you're prepared to pay a king's ransom. Lots shoulder the snow-mantled Sierra Nevada slopes ringing the lake are comparably priced with choice suburban property near big cities.

"They talk about the booms in Southern California desert areas and in Florida, but south Tahoe is right up there," said C. F. (Flip) Brandi, editor and publisher of the Lake Tahoe News.

60,000 In Summer

Five years ago, during the winter, there were hardly enough people in the area to field a basketball team. Now more than 11,000 reside here the year 'round. In the summer, the population jumps to more than 60,000.

Students in Lake Tahoe's Unified School District in grades kindergarten through fifth are scheduled for double sessions next fall. Supt. Glen Smith said a new 10-room wing at the school may be completed in time to avoid this.

There are two reasons for the mushrooming growth of this winter wonderland: Heavenly Valley ski resort, Tahoe's newest and largest, and free buses from Stockton and Sacrament to the Stateline, Nev., gaming casinos.

Gambler Bill Harrah, already established in Reno, has bet a couple of million dollars on Lake Tahoe in the past five years. He now is sweetening the pot with a two and one-half million-dollar expansion program. Harrah's Lake Lahoe employees average 1,500. Many are buying homes on the lake.

Regularly scheduled buses serve the area from Reno and Sacramento. There is a seaplane service from Sausalito, operated by Commodore Aviation. Opening in April is a new $300,000 airport at Tahoe Valley. Major airlines have scheduled regular flights from San Francisco and eastern points.

B. E. Lowe, vice president of the Sierra Pacific Power Co., in Reno, estimated there will be about 5,000 meter connections in the South Tahoe area this year. This would compare with 3,844 in September, 1957.

Building permits in South Tahoe in 1957 totaled 534 with a value of $3,296,673. There were 29 new motels with a value of $1,010,439.

America's first philanthropist was George Peabody (1795-1869), for whom the city of Peabody, Mass., was named. He made gifts of more than 12 million dollars during his lifetime.

SOME REGRETS, BUT—

Knowland Contented As Private Citizen

By PAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — For half of his 50 years, Big Bill Knowland swam in the whirling goldfish bowl of politics.

At 24, he became California's youngest assemblyman; at 26, its youngest state senator; at 36, its youngest U.S. senator. They called him a "young man in a hurry."

For five of his 13 years in the U. S. Senate, he was Republican leader, and there were those who said his momentum might carry him into a presidential nomination in 1960.

Today, at 50, Big Bill Knowland is suddenly a private citizen again and the presidential nomination is dimmer than a candle in a London fog. How does a man like Knowland, suddenly derailed, make the transition from public to private life?

The question brings a wry smile.

"It hasn't been too bad an adjustment," he says. "If you were going from the Senate back to private life as a farmer or insurance man, it might be harder to take. But going back to the newspaper business you don't exactly feel out of things, you don't feel so isolated."

Knowland is assistant publisher of his family's newspaper, the Oakland Tribune. It was here that he returned after quitting the Senate and then losing the fight for governor last fall.

Knowland says he still keeps in touch with political developments through a heavy correspondence, through personal contacts and through the flow of news.

As a private citizen, he enjoys being able to control his own time, being able to spend more time with his family.

As a private citizen, he admits missing the sense of being on the inside, of being there while history is made.

"In Washington, I had a great feeling of being in touch with the nation and the world. There were the regular Tuesday conferences with the President. There were the off-the-record meetings of the Foreign Relations Committee with the secretary of state after his return from a trip aboard.

"Most of all, I miss the friends I made. The Senate, you know, is small enough to know all these senators pretty well and some of them very well. I had friends on both sides of the aisle.

"But remember, I grew up in politics. My father served many years in the House. We knew that in politics you can only win or lose. I have no regrets about running for governor or fighting on the issues I did."

As of now, Knowland says, he has no political plans; he intends to remain in the newspaper business. When he ran for governor, he says, he did not intend that as a stepping stone; he did not plan to seek the presidential nomination in 1960.

Who is his personal choice for the nomination?

"As of now, my choice is the vice president. He's from my state and he'll get my support in the convention. That is based on the situation as of today."

How about Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York?

"Rockefeller has yet to make a name for himself as an executive. . . . He doesn't have too much time to develop his own record."

How about William F. Knowland?

"It's not very realistic to talk about the presidential nomination for a man who has just been defeated for governor."

BILL KNOWLAND, PRIVATE CITIZEN — California's big Bill Knowland, defeated in the race for governor last fall, poses at his desk at the Oakland Tribune, where he is assistant publisher of his family's newspaper. After spending half of his 50 years in politics, Knowland says the transition from public to private life has not been too difficult. (AP Wirephoto)

Blood Transfusion Licks 'Black Cancer'

NEW YORK (AP) — Cancer vanished in a young man given blood from another man who had spontaneously recovered from the same type of "black cancer," two physicians reported today.

His dramatic recovery indicates the borrowed blood contained some mysterious defense against the cancer. But it could also have been a very rare coincidence.

A third man receiving the borrowed blood did not benefit. But his body was badly riddled internally with the cancer.

The unusual case was described by Drs. Wilbur C. Sumner and Alvan C. Foraker, of Jacksonville, Fla., to the annual meeting of the James Ewing Society at Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases here.

All three men had malignant melanoma, the so called "black cancer" which often starts in moles on the body. Surgery can cure if the melanoma is still localized. But it often spreads rapidly, early, and fatally to other parts of the body.

A 30-year-old man recovered from fairly widespread melanoma after some of the black cancer spots had been removed surgically in 1949.

In 1954, some of his blood was given to a 28-year-old man who had multiple outbreaks of melanoma on his body. Again, only some of the cancerous spots could be removed.

But six weeks after he received the blood, many of the cancerous lumps and other symptoms began melting away, the physicians said. Within six months there was no sign of melanoma.

The experimental two-cylinder car which Henry Ford assembled in a shed behind his Detroit home in 1896 was too big to get out three the door, so Ford enlarged the opening with an ax.

Three Strange Partners In Cancer Fight

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (AP)—The surgeon's knife, a powerful poison and a flip of a coin.

These are the strange partners in testing a technique against cancer. First indications are promising.

Signs of success of the technique in treating breast cancer were reported by Dr. Warren Cole at this week's American Cancer Society seminar on cancer research and progress.

POWERFUL POISON

The test was begun more than three years ago. Dr. Cole and his colleagues wanted to try a powerful poison, nitrogen mustard, with sugery against breast cancer.

Nitrogen mustard, a cousin to the poison gas of World War I, is poisonous to both the cancer and the patient. Just enough is given to the patient to hit the tumor.

"To get the effect, you have to approach the toxic dose," said the University of Illinois researcher.

FLIP OF COIN

To control or compare the method properly, only half of the women particpating in the test got nitrogen mustard after the breast cancer operation. A flip of the coin decided which women got the poison.

Dr. Cole said cancer has recurred twice as often in women who did not get the nitrogen mustard treatment—and deaths are more than twice as high.

Other chemical compounds that are toxic to cancer cells also can be used.

STORK SNEAKS UP WITHOUT ANY WARNING

CLARKSDALE, Miss (UPI)—The stork sneaked up on Rev. and Mrs. C. P. Parker.

Mrs. Parker, 44, checked with a doctor Monday about strange abdominal pains and learned she was pregnant. An eight-pound, seven-ounce son was born four hours later.

Movie Makers Slate Showing

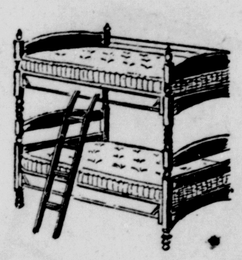

A showing of the latest works of several members of the Filmakers will be presented at 8:30 p.m. April 11 at IDESSI Hall in Sausalito.

Christopher Maclaine, director, said films shown will include those by members Jordan Belson, James Whitney, Dan McMenzi, Hi Hirsh, Dion Vigne, Proctor Jones and Maclaine. Included is a color and sound documentary of the Petaluma Highland Games, street scenes, a parody on "beatniks" and others.

THRUSTON B. MORTON
To succeed Alcorn?

Kentucky Solon May Head GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky was described in informed Republican quarters today as the probable successor to retiring GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn.

A new chairman will be elected at the Republican National Committee's meeting April 10-11 after a seven-member subcommittee consults with President Eisenhower.

In Kentucky, Morton said he was available for the job if the national committee and all segments of the party wanted him. He also said that, if elected, he would give up his Senate seat.

The party chairmanship has been held by incumbent members of Congress three times in the past 20 years.

Alcorn's surprise decision to resign was announced yesterday after he advised Eisenhower that he had to quit the chairmanship for compelling personal reasons.

He said he had to return to his Hartford, Conn., law practice but would retain his seat on the national committee.

Alcorn succeeded Leonard W. Hall of New York in the chairmanship Feb. 1, 1957.

After balking at discussing a possible successor, Alcorn said a number of persons had been discussed with Eisenhower and by party leaders.

Sex Deviate Drive Set In Sausalito

The Sausalito Police Department and the Marin County district attorney's office have joined forces to crack down on homosexuals in Sausalito, according to a joint statement today by Sausalito Police Chief Howard W. Goerndt and Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich.

"It has become increasingly apparent," the statement says, "that Sausalito has become a haven for homosexual elements . . .

"Chief of Police Howard Goerndt and Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich, beginning immediately and acting jointly and in full cooperation with each other and with agents of the Alcohol Beverage Control Board, will use all means within the limitations of the constitution and the laws of this state to rid Sausalito of homosexuals."

"It is our goal to make Sausalito an uncomfortable place for this type of person," said Goerndt.

The formal statement is an outgrowth of a meeting Monday night of the city council, Weissich and Goerndt at which the matter was discussed.

The oldest town hall in the United States is still standing in Pelham, Mass.

AF Transport Crashes; 4 Feared Dead

ORTING, Wash. (UPI)—Trailing a ribbon of flame, an Air Force transport plane carrying four crewmen crashed and exploded five miles from this western Washington town last night.

Air Force crews could find no survivors.

Witnesses said the four-engined military version of the civilian DC6 was afire when it crashed.

There was no explanation of the crash, although Air Force officers said the pilot indicated a collision was at fault. He radioed McChord Air Force Base: "We have hit something, or something has hit us."

Dairy Price Hike Bill Put Aside

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill which would increase consumer prices on cottage cheese by four cents a pound and buttermilk two cents a quart has been referred for further study by an interim committee, thus killing it for this session of the Legislature.

The bill by Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton (D-Merced) would require that both cottage cheese and buttermilk be made from market milk instead of manufacturing milk. An Assembly committee on livestock and dairies referred the measure yesterday to the Assembly Rules Committee for assignment to an interim committee.

LEGISLATOR COMPOSES ODE TO DEBT

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Republican State Rep. Ken Stringer of Davenport turned poet to express his feelings about increased governmental spending.

He read the following to the Legislature this week:

"Blessings on thee little man,
Barefoot boy with cheeks of tan.
Trudging down a dusty lane
With no thought of future pain;
You're our one and only bet
To help absorb the national debt.
Little man, with cares so few,
We've a lot of faith in you;
Have your fun now while you can
You may also be a barefoot man."

CAR CUTS OWN PASSAGEWAY—Sgt. James Orr and Officer John Orr of the San Anselmo Police Department and Al Foppe, tow truck operator for Depot Garage, inspect car that went completely through garage in foreground and wound up in yard of Harry A. Winding at 1324 San Anselmo avenue. (Independent-Journal photo)

GIRL PROVES FAR TOO DISTRACTING

A young man's fancy sometimes turns his head, but woe to the young man who is at the wheel of a car when it happens.

John Vincent Kopp, 17, of San Francisco told San Anselmo police that he took his eyes from the road at 1:20 p.m. yesterday to watch a girl walking on the sidewalk of Sir Francis Drake boulevard. When he looked back at the traffic he saw the car of Mrs. Audry Helen Howell, 31, of 314 Starling road, Mill Valley, stopped in front of him at the intersection of San Anselmo avenue.

Kopp swerved to avoid hitting Mrs. Howell's car, but too late. He was cited for following another car too closely. Mrs. Howell complained of a whiplash injury to her neck.

Muir Beach Well May Be Reopened

Directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District decided last night to investigate the possibilities of reopening "the deep well," dug some 15 years ago on Highway 1 opposite the Golden Gate Dairy.

In its early days, the well was reputed to have produced an excellent quality of water, but it has long been closed. Directors authorized chairman Charles A. Borden to get cost estimates from well drillers.

Secretary-Manager John White reported that 12 new meters costing $370 were being installed. The purchase was financed by customers, Borden noted, declaring that "this act certainly is an expression of confidence in the district by the residents."

White was authorized to purchase an additional 12 meters.

Directors also received an estimate of $15,000 for construction of a modern distribution system which will be required when an adequate water supply is developed.

Two Boys Confess Rummaging Homes

Two students at St. Vincent's School for Boys admitted last night they tried to pick the pocket of a sleeping man but failed when one of them accidentally bumped the bed and awoke their victim.

The boys, both 13, also admitted they had entered another home in Marinwood the same afternoon.

Sheriff's deputies M. L. Baker and Edward McKamey caught the boys in the field near Miller Creek road at Marinwood on a complaint by Calvin L. Smith of 137 Deepstone drive.

Smith, who runs a doughnut shop, said he left his trousers on the floor beside the bed and went to sleep. About 4 p.m., he got up to find the two boys rummaging through his trousers. They ran out the back doorway and into a field.

After being caught, the boys said they knocked on Smith's door, then entered. They saw the man asleep and so worked quietly, but one of them bumped the bed.

The two also admitted they rummaged through the home of Robert J. Cawley of 243 Emerystone a few moments before. Mrs. Cawley returned to her home to find drawers and cabinets opened, and contents of purses dumped on the floor. She said about $2 is missing from one of the purses. The boys denied they took any money.

Lewd Photo Ring Broken In East Bay

OAKLAND (UPI)—Police said today they had broken up the source of a nationwide indecent photograph and motion picture ring that allegedly used 40 East Bay housewives, college girls and secretaries as models.

Two men were arrested on charges of violating the indecent photographs and motion picture section of the state Penal Code. They are Douglas Deal, 38, Berkeley, owner of Domingo Studios in Berkeley, and Leonard J. Ackerman, 48, Oakland, owner of Ackerman Film Laboratory in Berkeley.

Officers said they seized at Ackerman's laboratory 1,000 reels of film, several lockersful of photographs and a small quantity of pornographic literature.

Also found was a card file with the names of 40 part-time models, including their telephone numbers, measurements and types of pictures they would pose for.

Lt. Ted Brown of the Oakland police vice squad said the case came to light after two girls who posed for pictures in an Oakland motel room went to police.

HOLLIS

Dixie and Reed School Districts have more than 900 pupils each—and therefore certain funds for services to them are no longer allowed.

Members of the board—except Howard Chadd of Sausalito—objected strongly at a board meeting Monday night to the proposed pay cuts. Salaries for this year are at 94 per cent of the "ideal" figure.

Hollis told the labor council it appears that cuts will be made elsewhere than in salaries to balance the budget.

COUNCIL

ment will be 34 feet and have three stories, he declared.

Weisenburg contends that the effect of the series of variances changes the zoning of the area. He said he is not so much against the variances granted, but feels the same concessions should be given other property owners in the area.

Attorney Baty announced he is preparing a formal protest before the city council. The next council meeting is set for 8 p.m. Monday.

STOCKS

San Rafael. The couple had saved about $500 in silver dollars to finance a vacation and the coins were stored in a basement strongbox with the stocks.

The papers were stocks of banks, Pacific Gas and Electric Co., and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., and legal papers. Cordes said they were found in the open, all intact.

Mrs. Regalia, who also works at her husband's machine shop, said she was called by police this morning and planned to go to the police department to check the papers. She said the stocks all belong to her mother-in-law, Mrs. Josephine Regalia of 84 Willow avenue.

Mrs. Victor Regalia expressed surprise at the announcement that $35,000 worth of stocks had been found. She said she is sure there was not much more than the $2,200 originally reported missing Feb. 2.

Captain Cordes said the district attorney's office and the sheriff's office are aiding Fairfax police in the investigation. Fairfax Police Chief Andy J. Peri is expected to return within the next two weeks from a Mexican vacation.

Novato Map To Get Study On April 10

The map of proposed boundaries for Novato if the area incorporates will be ready for consideration by the county boundary commission at its regular meeting April 10, at 10 a.m. in the supervisors' chambers at the courthouse, according to George Steele, head of the county's central mapping service.

Meanwhile, the Novato home rule committee, which is pushing the incorporation move, is to meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the North Marin Title Co. office to organize its campaign to circulate incorporation petitions.

The committee has divided Novato into 28 areas and will seek to have a petition-circulation team work in each area. At least 25 per cent of residents, holding at least 25 per cent of assessed valuation in the area, must sign to qualify the petitions.

New Phone Conduit Going In At Hub

A six-man Pacific Telephone and Telegrah Co. crew under subway inspector Bud Backman this morning began excavation work on San Anselmo avenue between Tunstead and Tamalpais avenues in San Anselmo to install a new telephone conduit.

The $5,000 line will replace an old one strung along Corte Madera Creek attached to the rear of businesses facing on San Anselmo avenue.

Accident-Free Drivers Due Insurance Saving

Starting May 1, California motorists who have driven three years without accident or traffic conviction will be rewarded with 20 per cent reduction in their car insurance rates.

Details of the new plan, never before tried anywhere in the United States, were outlined today by Max S. Martin, president of the Marin County Assn. of Insurance Agents.

Called the "safe driver insurance plan," it will offer rate reductions to 70 per cent of California's drivers, Martin said. Motorists who have had a single accident or violations will pay present rates. Those with two or more will pay higher rates.

200 ADOPT PLAN

Two hundred insurance companies in California will adopt the plan, Martin said. The firms are those affiliated with the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and National Automobile Underwriters Assn.

The 20 per cent reduction for those who qualify will apply to liability, injury and collision coverage.

"Those families where a member has had an accident or has been convicted of a moving traffic violation will not appreciate having to pay the extra charge, which can amount to a maxmum of 100 per cent for those with five accidents or moving violation convictions in three years," said Martin. "But when automobile insurance is a virtual necessity for most families, the insurance industry has a moral obligation to do its best for those who conscientiously obey the laws. Conversely, those who consistently disregard the laws deserve no special rate consideration."

MARIN RATES

Rate reductions in Marin County under the plan will mean a saving of $23.20 from the present rate $115 on a popular-priced family car with no male driver under 25 years old, for $10,000-$20,000 bodily injury liability, $5,000 property damage, $500 medical payments and $50-deductible collision coverage, Martin reported.

For single male drivers under 25 for the same coverages, a saving of $60.40 from the present rate of $303.60 will result.

An "accident" is defined as any automobile accident involving the applicant or any operator of the car who is a resident in the same household, resulting in damage to any property (including his own) in excess of $50 or in bodily injury or death, regardless of fault.

A "conviction" is defined as any moving traffic violation for which the applicant or any driver of the car living in the same household has been convicted.

An automobile will not be eligible for a reduction unless the applicant and all drivers in his household have been licensed in California for three years.

Search For Doctor Turns To Hawaii

Marin investigators, who have been looking for a missing San Rafael doctor for seven years, from Mexico to Florida, turned their attention to the 50th state today on a tip that the doctor might be in Hawaii.

Dr. Phillip R. Bill, 49, who left his wife and children and vanished with a girl friend in 1952, is wanted for failing to support his family.

Investigators Antoan W. Adam Jr. and William Bemiss of the district attorney's office received an unconfirmed report that a "Dr. Bill" was reported Hawaii or Maui last Christmas. A Marin woman, who declined to identify herself, told the Independent-Journal she was in the resort town of Hana, Maui, last December. A hairdresser there mentioned that her doctor was "Dr. Bill."

The doctor left a flourishing practice in San Francisco and his wife Florence and three sons, who are now 19, 12 and 6. Mrs. Bill is seriously ill in Ross General Hospital, according to Investigator Adam. He also has two daughters, one at San Jose State and the other working as waitress in San Francisco.

The three boys are with relatives in Los Angeles.

Reports on Dr. Bill indicated he was a salesman in Florida and Mexico, and also worked as golf professional in Mexico at one time.

Student To Speak To Rotary Club

Barbara Bruff, 18, of Novato will speak to the Novato Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting tomorrow at Sweden in Marin restaurant.

Miss Bruff will talk on her experiences last summer when she went abroad under the Experiment in International Living program. She spoke on the same subject at today's noon meeting of the San Rafael Kiwanis Club.

Miss Bruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Bruff of 2144 Center road, Novato, now attends the University of California, where she is a freshman.

Errant Car Goes Through (Bang) Garage

An errant car took off from San Anselmo avenue at 2:28 p.m. yesterday, plowed through a hedge and fence, and virtually demolished a garage at 1324 San Anselmo avenue by going clear through it.

San Anselmo police found Merle Henry Hoy, 25, of 8 Elm avenue, San Anselmo, sitting on the curb and bleeding from face cuts. His car, a 1950 coupe, was sitting in the yard after its unorthodox entry, and exit through two sides of the garage, police said. Hoy was given emergency treatment at Marin General Hospital. Investigation of the accident was continuing today.

The damaged garage is owned by Philip Webster of Berkeley, according to police. Harry A. Winding is the present occupant of 1324 San Anselmo avenue.

commerce term. He cited also Enemark's promotional work with the Marin County Development Foundation, and his key role in the Marin Safety Council. Also he noted that Enemark served as treasurer of the citizen committee for the unsuccessful Marin County Hospital District bond issue election last November.

In addition, Stone observed, Enemark served as director of the San Rafael Rotary Club and "still found time to be active as a director of the Construction Industry Council of Marin." In the last role, he "quietly and unofficially assisted in helping solve certain problems confronting the Subcontractors' Assn."

REVIEWS CAREER

Stone reviewed Enemark's career, from the time he entered the investment department of the San Francisco Bank in 1934. Enemark has been executive vice president and general manager of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. since 1953.

Present to see her husband honored was Mrs. Jean Enemark. They have two children, Lee, 16, and Susan, 12. They live at 170 Main drive, San Rafael.

Guest speaker at the luncheon meeting was E. Ronald Long, president of the San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Assn. and past president of the California League of Savings and Loan Assns. He praised Enemark's work in the latter organization.

County, Tam High To Share Right Of Way

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night approved turning over about half of the semi-abandoned 60-foot Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way past Tam High in Mill Valley to the city and county for street widening.

The high school district will develop about half the right of way as part of the high school campus for athletic activities, the trustees decided.

Other actions at the short meeting at the district offices included the hiring of seven new teachers and resignation of two others.

Teachers resigning were Edward Baker, industrial arts teacher at Redwood High and Miss Una Meadowcroft, Redwood High mathematics teacher who plans to be married.

New teachers hired are Don Jose Boucher of Paramount, to teach driver training at Redwood High; James Buckley of Compton, industrial arts at Redwood; Edward Chavez of Richmond, social studies and mathematics at Tamalpais High; Miss Gloria Lee of Reedley, girls' physical education at Sir Francis Drake High School; Scott Merrick of Berkeley, social studies at Drake; Miss Marcia Norwood of Los Angeles, social studies at Drake, and Allan Power of Napa, social studies at Tamalpais.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle was absent on temporary active duty with the Navy in Washington, D.C.

Sanitary Directors To Study Changes

Ross Valley Sanitary District directors last night held for further study proposals that the district's $10 connection fee be increased and that its sanitary code be revised.

Director Morris L. Maier said today there was agreement that some revisions are necessary to bring the district's policies in line with present-day costs and to require the use of improved types of materials for sewer line construction

AMIABLE NIKITA — With the death of Stalin and the rise to power of Nikita Khrushchev, Soviet leaders became more and more aggressively friendly, inspired by the example of Khrushchev himself. He's seen here drinking a toast at a Polish Embassy reception in Moscow in 1958.

THE 'NEW' KHRUSHCHEV

West Waited In Vain For Whistling Shrimp

(Fourth in a series on Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

There, in the middle of things, bubbled Nikita Khrushchev, jabbing a stubby finger into the chest of his startled listener.

The scene was a British Embassy reception in Moscow in mid-1954. The listener was Clement Attlee, head of Britain's Labor Party.

Stalin lay in his gaudy Red Square tomb. His lieutenants were individuals now. They could talk out in public.

Khrushchev talked and talked, torrents of rapid, often ungrammatical Russian tinged with Ukrainian accent.

Cultivated, taciturn Georgi Malenkov, who considered himself Stalin's heir, looked on with a superior smile. Few outsiders seemed to take Khrushchev seriously, and some in the Kremlin made the same mistake.

"Noisy chap," muttered Attlee when the talking bout was over.

The first summit meeting still was a year away, but already it may have been in the back of Khrushchev's mind as a device to lull the West. An era of smiles had begun.

Moscow's collective leadership was a mutual protective association to prevent any one man from getting the upper hand. Its first concern was to break the power of Lavrenty Beria, whose army of secret police nearly took over Moscow at the hour of Stalin's death. With the help of Marshal Georgi Zhukov and the army, the collective destroyed Beria and purged the secret police machine.

Stalin's power had derived from control of both party and police. Having pushed Malenkov aside, Khrushchev had the party reins. No single leader had the police to himself.

The Kremlin in 1954 was under severe strain. The Korean War was ended. The Indochina War was ending. The Kremlin made extraordinary gestures toward Yugoslav's Tito, the maverick Communist with whom Stalin feuded.

And the Soviet consumer was promised the world on a platter if he would just be patient.

The collective leadership, to the uncritical observer, was just one big happy family.

Khrushchev exploded the happy family notion in 1955. He outfoxed Malenkov and required him to step down as premier, confessing himself a failure. Khrushchev installed pliable Nikolai Bulganin as premier.

Thereafter, Khrushchev did the talking. At home he indicated the consumer would have to wait for the promised amenities of life.

Abroad he mixed smiles with threats.

Khrushchev and Bulganin journeyed to Belgrade to get Tito's forgiveness for Stalin's abuse.

Did all this mean the Russians at last planned to relax Communist pressure in the world's trouble spots? Snorted Khrushchev:

"If anyone believes our smiles involve abandoning the teachings of Marx, Engels and Lenin, he deceives himself badly. Those who wait for that will wait until the shrimp learns to whistle."

The West waited in vain for a whistling shrimp. In midsummer, 1955, Khrushchev got the summit conference he so eagerly sought. Soviet propaganda conjured up a "spirit of Geneva." But that smiling ghost faded away quickly. By autumn Moscow was intruding in the Middle East with arms and propaganda.

Next: Khrushchev's gospel of communism.

Order To Isreal Army Touches Off War Scare

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Israeli government worked overtime today to calm new war jitters in the Middle East, caused by a coded broadcast last night calling up Israeli army reserves.

The army said the announcement should have been a routine notice to three reserve units being called for training maneuvers. But the army said the government radio had broadcast it in a way "likely to create panic in the country and misunderstanding abroad."

ALERT IN SYRIA

Neighboring Syria immediately ordered all military men on leave back to duty and put five army reserve formations on 24-hour notice. Damascus radio said Syria had taken "all necessary measures to defend herself" in the wake of the Israeli announcement.

Jordan's higher defense council held a late-night emergency meeting and announced it was taking "all necessary measures to protect the Jordan border and security."

EXPRESSES REGRET

Shortly after the Israeli broadcast, which gave the impression of a large-scale mobilization order, Finance Minister Levi Eshkol interrupted a budget debate in Parliament to express the government's regret over the misunderstanding.

Premier David Ben-Gurion, who is also Israel's defense minister, met this morning with heads of the armed services. Afterward a spokesman said the "incorrect version of the army chief of staff's order as broadcast corresponds in no way to the decision or original intention of general headquarters."

Ben-Gurion named a special committee to find out who was responsible for the broadcast.

State Dept. Far Eastern Expert Quits

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter S. Robertson, for years a key figure in mapping U.S. strategy against Communist China, is quitting July 1 as assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Ill health was given as the reason for his resignation, which was announced by the White House yesterday.

The White House said President Eisenhower will nominate Robertson's deputy, James Graham Parsons, 51, a career diplomat, as successor.

EMERGENCY FLIGHT

Colonel Bounces GIs, Bounced In Return

TOKYO (UPI)—The U. S. military commander in Japan personally bounced a vacationing lieutenant colonel and his family from a plane for bumping seven enlisted men flying home on emergency leave, it was disclosed today.

The commander was Lt. Gen. Robert Burns, who immediately became a hero to GIs throughout Japan—and probably the world.

Burns personally ordered the plane to return to Tachikawa Air Force Base 30 minutes after it had taken off for Honolulu, where the officer planned to spend his leave with his wife and four children.

The general then went down to the base to greet the Military Air Transport Service airliner and make sure the enlisted men got aboard. One of the enlisted men was going home to see his mother, who was reported ill and near death. The lieutenant colonel was ordered to remain in Tokyo pending an investigation. He was identified as Charles Platt Jr., commander of the Tachikawa passenger terminal.

The seven enlisted men already were at the airport when the order bumping them came through.

Airman Coye Y. Bell of Fayetteville, Tenn., desperate to reach his ailing mother's side, telephoned the general at his quarters to complain, but the plane was in the air five minutes before his call was put through.

The Air Force said Burns promptly called officials at the air base to learn whether Bell's complaint was justified and then ordered the aircraft to return.

In Saratoga Springs, N. Y., A2/c Robert J. Kindl, who was en route home after the death of his son, said Platt gave the enlisted men a direct order to get off the plane.

"We were all on emergency leave," Kindl said. "My son had died and the funeral was being held up. Another airman's mother had died. The daughter of another was in a hospital and fear was expressed for her life."

He said the colonel gave the order to a major, who told the officer he "was doing wrong."

"But," Kindl said. "A direct order is an order and you don't disobey them. The major passed the order along to lower echelons and the men were removed from the plane."

"We appealed directly to General Burns for help and he was kind enough to take action," the airman said. "We sent him a sincere note of thanks for what he did."

Kindl said the plane had to dump large quantities of fuel into the Pacific for safety reasons before it was permitted to land back at the air base.

"We personally appealed to the colonel to permit us to make the flight," Kindl said. "But he paid no attention to us. He merely turned away."

S/Sgt. Paul S. Cain said at Sedalia, Mo., he was shocked and surprised to learn the colonel had bumped him.

"I went out on the runway and explained the situation to the colonel," he said. "But he turned his back on me and went right on into the plane.

"It wasn't what you expect of an Air Force officer."

Cain was called home because his year-old daughter has pneumonia.

Twisters Hit Florida; Fog Blankets N.Y.

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A heavy crippling fog blanketed the New York area for the second day today, while tornadoes struck two communities in Florida. The high winds killed one person, injured at least nine others and caused damage estimated at more than a million dollars.

At least two lives were lost as a result of the fog blanket in New York. Many airliner flights were canceled.

Idlewild Airport was shut down tight overnight and La Guardia's business was limited to the takeoff of eight planes.

The Florida tornadoes hit Dade City, about 50 miles west of Orlando, and Azalea Park, a suburb of Orlando. The sheriff's office reported property damage of one million dollars at Dade City. Many houses and business buildings there were damaged or destroyed and power lines were torn down.

STONEHAM SOOTHES FANS . . .

Sam Sad, But 'Don't Panic'

PHOENIX, Ariz (UPI)—Pitcher Sam Jones made his debut for the San Francisco Giants yesterday, and the Chicago Cubs rang the curtain down on him in a hurry.

The towering right-hander gave up nine hits and 10 runs in a disastrous four-inning stint. That ended the Cub scoring for the day as the Windy City men breezed to a 10-5 win at Mesa.

Neither Jones nor the club brass appeared to be outwardly perturbed.

Jones said he was loose, but added laconically that "I didn't have nothing."

President Horace Stoneham commented "he hasn't pitched for 10 days. Naturally, he wasn't sharp. His arm is sound. Don't panic."

Three-run homers by rookie George Altman and Walt Moryn did most of the heavy damage against Jones, who was recently obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade.

After Jones had departed from the scene, relief pitchers Joe Shipley and Al Worthington each sparkled in a two-inning visit to the mound.

Bob Anderson pitched for the Cubs. He went eight frames and gave up 11 hits and five runs. Don Elston finished up and surrendered only a 12th Giant bingle.

Top Giant swatters included Daryl Spencer with three hits, Willie Kirkland with two and rookie Al Steiglitz with a home run.

The San Franciscans had an especially exasperating time in the third inning. They placed two men on base before Anderson struck out the muscular duo of Felipe Alou and Willie Mays and forced Orlando Cepeda to pop up.

SAD DAY — Sad Sam Jones, of whom the San Francisco Giants expect much, had a sad day yesterday when he made his debut on the mound against the Cubs. The former St. Louis Cardinals ace was shelled for 10 runs in four innings. (AP Wirephoto)

A field of 88, made up of 19 amateurs and 69 professionals, teed off this morning for the first of the four rounds which will decide the winner of the tournament started by Bobby Jones 25 years ago.

SNEAD FAVORED

When word got around that windy weather was predicted for today's first round, the odds-makers installed Snead, a three-time winner of the Masters, as the favorite at 5 to 1, dropping young Ken Venturi, the original choice, down to 6-1.

Snead is used to the winds which often sweep the Augusta National Golf Club course and so are Burke, Middlecoff and Demaret. Demaret, who is the only golfer besides Snead who has won this tournament three times, is regarded as the best wind player in the game.

The forecast also increased the chances of defending champion Arnold Palmer, also regarded as one of the better players when breezes engulf the course.

Palmer, however, still was listed as an 8-1 shot along with Middlecoff and Ben Hogan. Demaret, along with Art Wall and Billy Casper, were 10-1 while Burke was 12-1.

Gary Player, the little South African who tied the course record with an eight-under-par 64 in his final tuneup round yesterday, was in a large group quoted at 20-1. He was, however, the favorite of those fans who go for long-shots.

S.R. Hurdler Falls, But Wins Anyway

No doubt about who was the best hurdler in yesterday's North Bay League track and field meet between San Rafael, Redwood and Santa Rosa at Santa Rosa.

San Rafael's Brent Marshall outclassed other hurdlers in the 120 high timber event so badly that he won the race—even though he fell down. The Bulldog ace, who usually runs the event in 15.3 seconds, tripped over the next-to-last hurdle, got up, took a step back and cleared the final obstacle and then dashed to the finish, winning by five yards. His time was 17.4 seconds.

Marshall was the meet's top scorer as he also won the 180-yard low hurdles in 21.5 and the pole vault at 10 feet 6 inches.

SNIDOW STARS

Bulldog weight man Ron Snidow established himself as the league's outstanding discus man as he flipped the high school weight platter 157 feet. The discus is San Rafael's specialty as no less than six Bulldogs exceeded 120 feet.

Snidow also picked up another first place in the shot with a distance of 46 feet, 7 inches.

San Rafael beat both opponents in Class A, 75-38 over Redwood and 69-44 over Santa Rosa.

Celts Nip Nationals, Fight Overconfidence

BOSTON (AP) — The mighty Boston Celtics feared only over-confidence against the upstart Minneapolis Lakers today while marking time before their series opener for pro basketball's world championship.

"We figure to beat the Lakers, but we have to guard against over-confidence," warned Bob Cousy, Boston's veteran backcourt magician.

"That's right, chimed in Coach Red Auerbach. "We've taken them easily the past two years and then they didn't figure to upset St. Louis. They have everything to gain and nothing to lose."

The Celtics streaked into a National Basketball Assn. title showdown with Minneapolis by coming from behind for a 130-125 victory over the stubborn Syracuse Nationals last night in the seventh and deciding game of a torrid Eastern division final series.

The opener of the best-of-seven NBA championship series Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden will find the Celtics seeking their 19th straight triumph over Minneapolis. The Lakers last defeated the Boston club in the final game of the regular 1956-57 campaign.

Despite outward attempts to tone down confidence, the Celtics were unanimous in predicting they would regain the NBA crown they won two years ago.

"This is the greatest team ever—it didn't quit, it didn't quit," Auerbach cried happily in the dressing room.

Despite the strong "greatest" tag by their coach, the Celtics had to rally from a 16-point deficit midway through the second period and then outbattle Syracuse in the closing minutes.

Frank Ramsey topped the Celtics with 28 points with a right fore-finger encased in a cast. Cousy had 25.

The Celtics come-back victory overshadowed a tremendous shooting display by Dolph Schayes and George Yardley. Schayes took individual honors with 35 points, while Yardley contributed 32.

Harris No Closer To Another Title Fight

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — Roy Harris reigned king of the Texas heavyweights today, but his manager doubts the bloody brawl with Donnie Fleeman has moved him any closer to another crack at World Champion Floyd Patterson.

Harris, the former backwoods school teacher who expects to become a father any day now, pounded out a unanimous 12-round decision last night in the nationally-televised Texas championship fight.

Joey Giambra, 157, won a unanimous decision over Al Andrews, 162, of Superior, Wis., in a co-feature middleweight bout. It was Giambra's second victory in a comeback after an elbow injury sidelined him last year. He formerly fought out of Buffalo, N.Y. and San Francisco, but calls Dallas home now.

Fleeman, 183, opened a two-and-one-half-inch gash over Harris' left eye in the second round. It bled profusely and cut the Cut 'N Shoot, Tex., fighter's vision for six rounds until Trainer Bill Gore stopped the flow at the end of the eighth.

Fleeman, from Midlothian, Tex., is the Texas light heavyweight champ. He suffered a bloody nose.

Harris beat Fleeman last November in much the same type of match. It was Harris' first fight after the Aug. 18 loss to Patterson, which was stopped in the 12th round because of four cuts over his eyes.

Spring Heroics Prize To Stoneham; He Makes Key Decisions, Trades

CONNOLLY

Spring training is pretty well over and the Giants' lineup pretty well fixed as the eight National League teams lunge through the last weeks of exhibition games.

First prize for spring heroics, of course, has to go to Horace Stoneham, owner of the Giants and the person least heard of in player affairs of the team.

I'll grant you Stoneham did a great job in coming away from New York to San Francisco. There was considerable risk involved and nobody but Stoneham took any chances. His job is almost completed with the city fathers of San Francisco. And once that definitely is settled, Stoneham may be able to ease off and take a breather.

In addition to scrambling in and through many details involved in such a monumental move, Stoneham had the ball club and its makeup to consider.

Make no bones about who is boss of the Giants. His name is Horace Stoneham and regardless of who takes the bows or who makes the official announcements, you can bet the guy behind the announcements is Stoneham.

I MENTION this only as information to the general public who might think Stoneham is just a wealthy guy who lets other people run his business. That isn't so and never will be while Stoneham is alive.

It was Stoneham and not his coaches, scouts, office help or anyone else who decided that Orlando Cepeda was to be the Giants' first sacker at the outset of the 1958 season.

It was Stoneham who gave orders for Andre Rodgers to play shortstop for the Giants in 1959.

And it is Stoneham again who engineered the deal for "Toothpick" Jones with the St. Louis Cardinals.

So if you have any idea that Stoneham isn't a thorough base ball man, just forget it. He is of the last line of oldtimers who runs the show with push button precision.

SOME OF his help may take the bows, but Stoneham makes the decisions . . . and alone.

The Bill White deal provided a crisis for Stoneham that not many outsiders can understand.

White might have brought $150,000 if he could have been held until after the close of the 1959 season.

Cleveland's Frank Lane felt White was worth that much money to his American League entry.

By the resolute way in which he met a difficult problem, Stoneham proved his right to own and lead a National League team.

OTHER SITUATIONS that have confronted the Giant boss since coming to California have proved he rules the roost. He hired Lefty O'Doul as batting coach when friends of Manager Bill Rigney felt it unwise.

Did Rigney object? A lot of wise baseball men expected Rigney to fume. He didn't keep them waiting. All Rigney did was welcome O'Doul to the roost.

"If the boss wants him, that is his privilege. I know Lefty can help anybody who wants to learn the secret of batting," Rigney declared.

And today Rigney holds the job as Giant manager and O'Doul is batting coach and can remain as long as Stoneham wants him to remain. At least there isn't a faint flicker of resentment on Rigney's part.

Marin Bowl Picks Barry Stinemates As New Manager

Barry Stinemates, a young man with considerable bowling experience, is the new manager of the Marin Bowl, it was announced today by Harold "Bud" Moose, co-owner.

Stinemates, who was assistant manager at the Brentwood Bowl in South San Francisco for eight years, took over the post yesterday, succeeeding Kep Kephart who resigned to accept a similar position elsewhere.

Stinemates announced he plans a series of tournaments at the San Rafael keg house.

Moose also said plans are in the making to remodel the building.

Drake Sweeps NBL Track-Field Meet

Drake's relay beat Montgomery, but lost to Napa. Its time was 1:37.7.

Dennis Bailey set a Class B school record for Drake in the 70-yard high hurdles in 9.3 seconds and tied the school mark in the 120 lows in 13.8.

Mrs. Prodger, who carded a 99 Tuesday, was awarded a pin for breaking 100 for the first time.

NAVY TO USE '22 SKIDOO' GRID SYSTEM

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Eddie Erdelatz liked the "lonesome end" and "Chinese bandits" ideas of last football season. Now the Navy coach is offering his own gimmick.

The best Navy players will be divided into two teams of equal strength and the two units will relieve one another every seven or eight minutes.

One sportswriter has already tabbed it a "22 skidoo" plan.

The Navy coach unveiled his new strategy yesterday at a press conference.

"The way the game is played today you just can't play it with 11 men," Erdelatz said.

"Next year we'll have a starting team, a replacement team and a second team. The second team will be used only occasionally or to supply substitutes for injured men on the other units."

Sagues Wins Pair, But Drake Loses

Pete Sagues won two events, but his Drake High swimming teammates suffered a 60-35 loss to Las Lomas High yesterday in a dual meet at Drake.

Sagues won the 50-yard freestyle in 23.8 second and the 100 free in 53.9. Other Drake winners were Bob Pringle, 400 free, 5:01; John Hendry, 100 breaststroke, 1:14.3, and Zeke Bundschu in diving.

Las Lomas also won the Class B competition, 55-22.

TWO MARIN GRIDDERS ON ALL-STAR SQUAD

End Ron Snidow of San Rafael and quarterback Jack Sparrow of Novato yesterday were named to the 28-player West All-Star Squad that will oppose the East All-Stars in the San Francisco 20-30 Club's annual high school football classic in Kezar Stadium this summer.

Both Marin County stars also have been selected to play in this summer's North-South Shrine Game in Los Angeles.

Snidow, who led San Rafael to the undisputed North Bay League championship last fall, stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 202 pounds. Sparrow, a versatile quarterback, is 6-4 and 180.

The San Francisco AAA contributed nine players to the West squad, while the Santa Clara Valley League placed six, North Peninsula five, South Peninsula three, Catholic Athletic League three and Marin County two.

Vallejo Tops Tam Spikers

Vallejo High's potent track and field team romped to an 85-28 triumph over the Tamalpais Indians yesterday in their opening North Bay League dual meet at Vallejo.

The host Apaches won every track event, including a 1-2-3 sweep of three events to establish themselves as league favorites.

The Apaches' crack mile relay team broke the NBL record with clocking 1 minute, 30.7 seconds. The record is 1:31.6.

Another Apache standout was Bill Nicholas who won both hurdles events. His 19.6 clocking in the 180-yards lows was only one-tenth of a second off the NBL record.

Tam's bright spots were Ray Edwards, a double winner, and Pat Monez. Edwards won the pole vault at 10 feet 6 inches and the high jump at 5-9. Monez won the discus with a heave of 116-2.

Tam won the Class B competition, 59-54, but Vallejo won in Class C, 42-33.

Basilio Pounds Out TKO Victory

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Carmen Basilio, former welterweight king, added another victory to his long string, but gained little stature in scoring a third round technical knockout over little-known Arley Seifer of Pittsburgh last night.

The end came at 2:31 of the third session when Referee Eddie Coachman halted the bout to keep the outclassed Seifer from absorbing any more punches.

The bout was Basilio's fifth this year in a campaign for a return bout with middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson. The fight was part of a Master's Golf Week Celebration and it attracted 2,300 fans.

Robertson Named 'Player Of Year'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Oscar Robinson, All-American basketball star at the University of Cincinnati, has been chosen "College Basketball Player of the Year" for 1959 by the Helms Athletic Foundation.

Jerry West of West Virginia was runner-up for the award announced yesterday along with the foundation's list for its All-American team.

Both Robertson and West were chosen for the team along with Bob Boozer, Kansas State; Johnny Cox, Kentucky; John Green, Michigan State; Bailey Howell, Mississippi State; Don Hennon, Pittsburgh; Lou Pucillo, North Carolina State; Alan Seiden, St. John's and Walt Torrence, UCLA.

Warne Tells Plans For Fish-Game Job

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — William E. Warne, a 53-year-old veteran of 23 years with the Federal Government, took over today as head of California's gigantic Fish and Game Department.

"I'm still a neophyte," he admitted at a news conference yesterday.

But he promised to take a firm hand on the reins.

"I have no intention of shaking up the department," he said. "But I understand there is some friction there and I hope to smooth it out.

"I understand this department is one of the best in the nation and I intend to keep it that way."

Warne, whose only association with fish and game problems was that the head of the Federal Wildlife Service at one time "reported to me," replaced Seth Gordon, who served seven stormy years as head of the department's 1,000 employees.

The new director faced newsmen with Gov. Edmund G. Brown at his side.

He announced that he would attend a Fish and Game Commission meeting in Los Angeles Friday and then hopes to embark on a tour of the state, including personal visits to the regional F&G offices. He said he also would visit with conservationists and sportsmen to get their views.

Warne was asked why he turned aside a $24,000-a-year federal job to take the directorship of the fish and game department in California, which pays $16,000.

"I wanted to come home," he said. "I'm not a career foreign service man. California is my home and the Governor said he had a hard job to do here." Warne has a home in Altadena, Calif.

Warne headed the U. S. Foreign Aid Mission in Korea. He was director of foreign aid missions in Iran and Brazil before that.

Loes Gets His Wish; O's Trade Him To Senators

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Billy Loes, who has been asking for it ever since spring training began, finally got his wish. The Baltimore Orioles traded him.

General Manager Lee MacPhail announced yesterday that the unpredictable Loes has been swapped to Washington for Vito Valentinetti, like Loes a righthanded pitcher.

Loes, who had demanded that the Orioles trade him to the New York Yankees, San Francisco Giants and Cleveland Indians, accepted the news calmly.

Loes sealed his fate by leveling barbed witticisms at Manager Paul Richards and the Orioles earlier this spring. For example he said: "Whoever heard of Richards before he hooked up with me."

HANLEY'S REPORT

S.F. Lineup 'Set' For Opening Day

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Cleveland's Indians and the Giants close the 1959 spring training season tomorrow with a final exhibition game in the Cactus League at Phoenix Municipal Stadium.

Then both teams fly to Salt Lake City where Saturday they play the first of five road games on their way east for the American and National League openers.

One week from tomorrow night the Giants open in St. Louis, the first of a three-game series with the Cardinals before flying back to the Golden Gate for the opener in Seals Stadium against the Chicago Cubs Tuesday, April 14.

Manager Bill Rigney's starting lineup, batting in this order, looks this way: Jimmy Davenport, 3b; Felipe Alou, rf; Willie Mays, cf; Orlando Cepeda, 1b; Jackie Brandt, lf; Andre Rodgers, ss; Daryl Spencer, 2b; Bob Schmidt, c.

Opening day pitcher in St. Louis could be Johnny Antonelli or Sam Jones, the former Cardinal who just became a Giant in the biggest trade deal of the season.

A MULTIPLICITY of aches, pains and colds will be left in Arizona by the Giants. Mays happily is leaving behind him the memory of 35 medical stitches but still carries a two-inch scar along the right shinbone he laid open March 12.

Brandt, free of a nasal obstruction for the first time in seven years, is breathing proper amounts of fresh air and in the proper manner. His hitting and fielding since the nasal operation on March 5 have been a joy to club president Horace Stoneham who ordered the repair job on the left fielder's schnozz.

"We've had more than our share of injuries—enough for a couple of seasons," said Rigney, who still has an appointment of his own with the doctor for removal of a lot of wire from his broken jaw.

THAT WIRED jaw of the Giant manager has been the target of a number of jokes. None was better than Rigney's own comment after the rhubarb between the Giants and Cleveland Indians a week ago. Coach Salty Parker urged Rigney to stay on the sidelines because an excited player might forget himself and let a right go at the jaw. "Whoever does," said Rigney, "will have a lacerated fist."

ANY DOUBTS that Mays' 17 days absence from the lineup might delay his rounding into top form were dispelled Easter Sunday when he returned to the lineup.

In his first time up since the shinbone accident Mays smashed the second pitch offered him by Boston's Ike Delock 386 feet off the right center field wall of the Phoenix ball park. While Rigney must have held his breath, Mays gave the leg wound a thorough-going test with a full-fledged slide into third for a triple.

Carlson Wins Hub Golf Title; McNair, Duff Tie For Second

Hal Carlson of San Rafael, runner-up last year won the championship of the San Anselmo Businessmen's annual golf tournament Monday at the Meadow Club.

The veteran belter carded a two-over par 73 and, with 2½ handicap strokes, came in with a net 70½.

That was just one-half stroke ahead of defending champion Gordon McNair, the San Anselmo police officer who tied at 71 net with Dr. Bill Duff.

Best gross round of the day was a sizzling two-under par 69 by young college student Paul Spengler Jr. of Ross. Playing from scratch, the former Drake High champion toured the first nine in 36 and the last in a nifty 33. He played in the Guest Flight.

Tom Dixon, employee of United Markets in San Rafael and city golf champion of San Mateo, gave Spengler a good run in the Guest Flight. Dixon grossed a 73 and netted a 70 to gain runner-up honors.

Booby prize for the worst gross score of the day—a classic 134—went to John Orr.

Art Bresnan of Piombo and Bresnan, San Rafael, copped the Mayor's Flight with a net 73;

Laurie Antolini of San Anselmo won the Hub City Flight with 73½;

Phil Meyer of Hamilton Air Force Base turned in a net 73 to win the Red Hill Flight, which was a bitter battle right town to the finish. Three players tied for second, one stroke behind Meyer, including Fred Angeli of Pastori Market in Fairfax, Ben Badaracco of the American Trust Co. and Joe DePatta of the San Anselmo Fire Department.

Chairman John Bell announced the 140 entries was a tournament record. He said he received entries from as far off as Sacramento and Willits.

Safety Belts for 500 Federal Cars

WASHINGTON, March 23. (UPI)—The Department of Health, Education and Welfare today ordered safety belts installed in the 500 automobiles operated by the agency.

Secretary Arthur S. Flemming said he was following recommendation of the U. S. Public Health Service, which "recommends that car owners throughout the country take similar precautions."

Marin Legal Aid Society Helps More Than 100 During First Year

More than 100 Marin citizens, unable to pay attorney fees, have received free services from the Marin County Legal Aid Society since it was organized last July 1.

The office, located in Room 333 of the Albert Building in San Rafael, is staffed by Mrs. Jane Swall of Kentfield, a legal secretary. She makes appointments Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

To date, 380 persons have been interviewed by the society, and 106 cases assigned to volunteer lawyers who gave legal help. Of the rest of those interviewed, some were ineligible for free services, and other cases were resolved in the office at the first interview with attorneys.

Volunteer attorneys meet clients by appointment on Tuesday and Friday mornings. If the client is found eligible, he is assigned to a lawyer. Almost all attorneys in Marin take turns helping out the indigent.

Howard Morehouse is president of the legal aid society. He took over from Leonard Thomas last month. Other officers include Nicholas Suntzeff of the Family Service Agency, vice president; attorney Ann Diamond, secretary, and attorney Harold J. Truett, treasurer.

Extra Funds For Mosquito Control

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A Senate finance subcommittee yesterday added $400,000 to the Public Health Department's 1959-60 budget for aiding local areas in mosquito and gnat control.

The budget originally called for $11,370, to be spent in only two of the state's mosquito abatement districts, a cut of $388,630 from the current budget which spreads aid throughout the state.

Sen. James Cobey (D-Merced) and other legislators asked that the department continue its current level of aid because of serious mosquito problems in some areas of the state.

Low Bid Approved For Bon Air Span Approach

The Larkspur City Council last night approved the low bid of O. C. Jones and Sons of Berkeley for construction in the next 75 days of the south end Bon Air Bridge approach near Marin General Hospital.

The successful bid of $29,684 will cover filling for the approach, paving the roadway and construction on one side of curbs and gutters and sidewalks, and elimination of a rise on Magnolia avenue at the future junction with Bon Air road.

Highest of the seven bids received was that of the M. Amaral Construction Co. of Petaluma for $35,415. The job estimate was $31,547.

Larkspur City Manager Ronald E. Piper said Jones and Sons has 15 days in which to begin construction and an additional 60 days in which to complete the work.

Grading is now being done on the north side of the new bridge by Brown Ely Co. of Corte Madera for the County of Marin. The north approach, from the hospital side, is shorter but will require a higher fill and is across more unstable mud.

State Grants $106,774 For Hub Road Repairs

The state Division of Finance has approved a grant of $106,774 to San Anselmo for major storm damage repairs, City Manager Arthur W. Brewer announced today.

The approval means contracts for repair of the big Forest avenue slide area and of Redwood road storm damage can be awarded at a special city council meeting set for next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Fate of the two projects was in doubt because, when bids were opened at the March 11 city council meeting, all exceeded the maximums allowed by the state under a previous disaster grant.

Low bidder on the Forest avenue job was John H. McCosker Engineering and Construction Co. of Berkeley, at $81,739. Low on the Redwood road project was Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael at $3,509.

City Engineer John C. Oglesby has certified both low bidders to receive the contracts.

The state grant, supplemented by $23,616 in city funds, will pay for the Forest avenue and Redwood road projects plus repairs of three other streets damaged by the heavy storms of last spring: Spring Grove avenue, Canyon road and Oak avenue.

Contract for the Spring Grove avenue job was awarded to the McCosker firm March 11. The Canyon road and Oak avenue jobs were contracted last fall and have been completed.

Public Relations Man Divorced

Public relations man William Hendricks and his wife, Elizabeth, were granted an interlocutory divorce yesterday in Marin Superior Court by Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Mrs. Hendricks was given custody of their two children, John, 17, and Kelly Ann, 8; $350 a month maintenance for herself and the children; their house at 1 Cala Vista drive, San Rafael, and household furnishings; a 1955 station wagon; a $10,000 insurance policy and three other policies covering the children.

Hendricks retained ownership of Hendricks Associates, his San Rafael public relations business; a 1958 sports car and a tennis club membership.

Hendricks started the divorce action last October, charging his wife with mental cruelty. Mrs. Hendricks filed a cross-complaint charging mental suffering. They were married in 1940.

CITY COUNCIL TO MEET AT SCHOOL

To accommodate the large audience expected, next Tuesday's Sausalito City Council meeting will be held in the auditorium of Central School instead of the city hall, City Manager Donald A. Duerr announced today.

Top item on the agenda will be discussion of the proposed commercial development of the sandspit, which has created a sharp difference of opinion among Sausalito groups.

Drunken Driver Fined, Jailed

Jewell William Acree, 39, of 209 Cardinal road, Mill Valley, was sentenced yesterday to five days in the county jail for drunken driving and fined $263 by Municipal Court Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. Acree, who had three prior drunken driving convictions, was arrested Feb. 2 on Miller avenue in Mill Valley.

Herman E. Brower, 45, of 1 West End avenue, San Rafael, was placed on one year probation and fined $263 for drunken driving. He was arrested last Dec. 14 at Bridgeway and Nevada street, Sausalito.

More Couples

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are now 39 million married couples in the United States, an increase of 37 per cent over 1940, according to statisticians of the Mertopolitan Life Insurance Co. In Canada, the increase has been even more marked, they said, jumping 50 per cent between 1941 and 1956.

Dr. Marietta Eichelberger, Famous Home Economist,
RECOMMENDS WONDER BREAD
FOR CHILDREN AND FOR ALL THE FAMILY
Based On Visits To The Wonder Research Laboratories And Bakeries

Dr. Marietta Eichelberger of Chicago, Illinois, Former Director of Home Economics and Nutrition Service, Evaporated Milk Association.

"I took a trip through the Wonder Research Laboratories and a Wonder Bakery, and frankly I was amazed at what I saw. As a home economist I was particularly interested in the Wonder Research Laboratories and the important tests that are made there.

"The efficiency and cleanliness are evident everywhere. The great care taken in the baking of Wonder Bread convinced me that it's the best bread made today. I can certainly understand why so many people prefer Wonder Bread. It not only tastes delicious, but it has important food elements that help build strong bodies 12 ways."

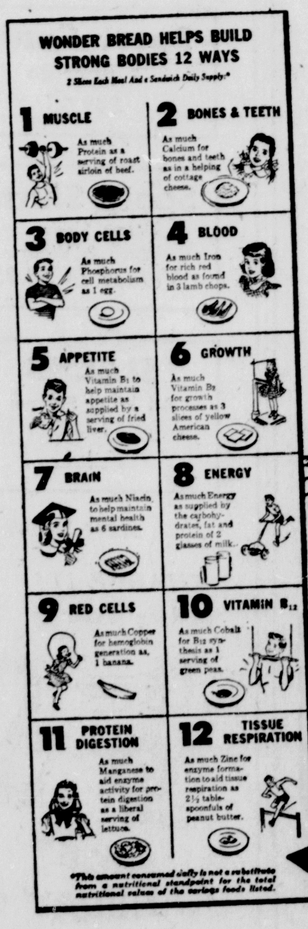

ONLY WONDER BREAD IS BAKED UNDER 5-WAY CONTROL BY THE SCIENTISTS OF THE WONDER RESEARCH LABORATORIES

5-WAY CONTROL MEANS: (1) ingredient evaluation (2) process improvement (3) product evaluation (4) product improvement (5) flavor improvement

MORE MOTHERS BUY WONDER BREAD THAN ANY OTHER BRAND
THEY KNOW IT HELPS BUILD STRONG BODIES 12 WAYS!

What Wonder Bread Can Do For Your Children, For You And Your Husband

What does a home economist want in a bread?

The same things every mother wants for her family—goodness.

Goodness assured by scientific laboratory control in clean bakeries . . . and top-quality ingredients.

Which is why more women buy Wonder Bread than any other brand.

They know it helps children grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

12 Ways To Growth

For normal physical and mental development, children must get a well-balanced diet of protein, fat, carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, such as come in meats, milk, eggs, fruit, green-leafed and yellow vegetables.

Wonder Bread contains 12 essential food elements that help your child grow normally.

The amounts of these 12 food elements in Wonder Bread are compared with similar amounts contained in other foods.

This does not suggest that Wonder Bread take the place of these other foods. Or that your child is deficient in any of these elements, particularly cobalt, copper, zinc and manganese.

However, the fact is Wonder Bread does contain each of the 12 food elements approximately in the amounts shown.

Thus, when you give Wonder Bread to your child, you know you are helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

This suggests that you do 3 things:

(1) Start your child eating 8 slices of Wonder Bread today.

(2) Measure your child's height and weigh him today.

(3) See how height and weight increase in 3 months; 6 months; each year.

Fresh And Tender

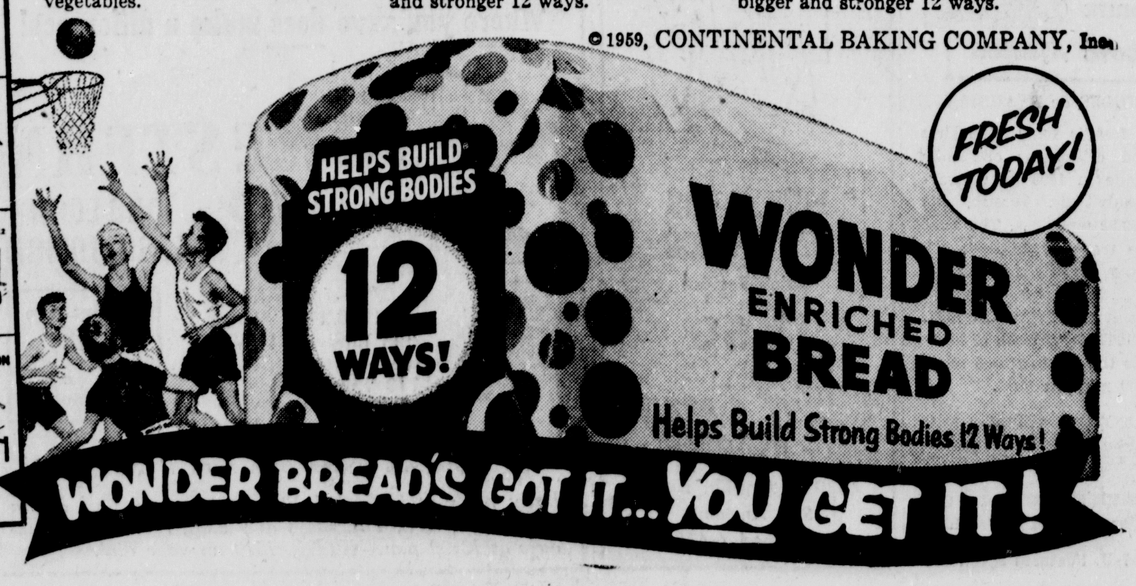

You should have no trouble getting your child to eat plenty of big, new Wonder Bread.

Because it is fresh with a tender texture and crust; a mouth-watering aroma. And—makes perfect toast.

Get big, new Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today.

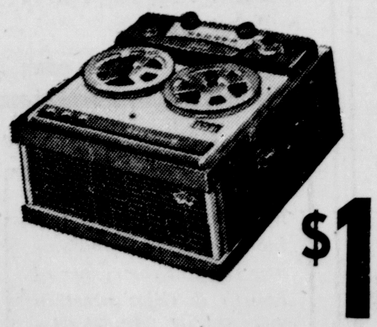

And start helping your child grow bigger and stronger 12 ways.

Foreign Flavor Spiced Styles Cause Wanderlust At Luncheon

Paprika, parsley and pepper, as exotic colors, added the right dash of spicy flavor to the glamorous imports of Sausalito's charming Tiki Shop at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon on Tuesday.

The Tiki Tour took guests chairside traveling to Hong Kong, Karachi, Honolulu, and Bankok and home again with fashions from a dozen different countries each "Spiced With Foreign Flavor" yet happily at home in Marin.

Stepping into the Fashion Focus spotlight in fashionable spring footwear from Netboy's of San Rafael were the attractive models, members of B'nai B'rith Women and The Sisterhood of the Jewish Community Center who shared honors for the day.

Ever decorative, as well as practical and colorful were Tuesday's Tiki imports, each spiced with flair, finesse and a pinch of fun by Tiki owner, Ruth Gerten, whose knack for sprinkling just the right foreign imports into her Village Fair Shop has won her a national following.

To keep each Tiki fashion standing on glamorous feet, Netboy's did imaginative coordinating to find the right Andrew Geller pump or Barnado sandal, in spicy shades of curry, cinnamon, nutmeg or thyme.

Guiding the Tiki Tour were Orrick's Travel Bureau in San Anselmo whose bright travel folders to Tiki spots, port-of-call posters and Chinese Junk atop the smorgasbord table added more globetrotting wanderlust.

ORIENTAL ALLURE

Combining Oriental allure with Marin practicality, The Salon did unusually creative hair styles for each model, sensationalizing her fingertips with pearlized polishes in green, aqua, lemon and persimmon to further accent the interesting imports. Gari Fleming and Frances Gaines gave each model the Beauty Counselor look as the finishing touch.

YWCA To Offer New Courses In Charm, Fashion

"Learn to avoid gambling with your wardrobe dollars," admonishes Patricia Williamson, instructor for the YWCA's new course in "Good Taste in Clothes Costs No More." This class will be given in combination with "Charm and Self Improvement" on Tuesdays, starting April 14.

The class will meet at San Rafael High School from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Mrs. Williamson will stress in the six-week course; the building of a basic wardrobe for city and country living, when to buy, what to look for in buying, accessorizing, and reliable sources in new fashions.

The Charm sessions will include poise and personality, figure control and diet, posture and graceful carriage, voice and diction, and the proper care of skin, nails and hair.

Special for seventh and eighth grade girls is a charm course all their own on Tuesday afternoons, also starting April 14, called "Princess Charming."

Mrs. Williamson will teach the class at the YWCA Office, 1010 B Street, San Rafael, from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. She will give the girls clues on how to take care of their hair, nails and skin, how to plan their wardrobes and accessories. Early Plans For Workshop Announced

Early plans for the summer workshop of the Junior Theater of Marin, which benefits from the proceeds of the annual Ballet Aquacade on the Roger Kent estate, were announced at a recent meeting of the executive board at the Kent Woodlands home of Mrs. Charles G. Bury, hospitality chairman for the Aquacade.

Approximately 100 children may register July 7 for the many creative activities leading up to the final production of the summer workshop Aug. 15 and 16 at the Marin Art and Garden Center. Mrs. D. F. Berg, summer theater chairman, announced that Lyn Harriman will be in charge of the creative dance, music and tumbling programs, and Mrs. Marian Hayes Cain will again be director of the creative drama program.

Youngsters who will enter second grade next fall may be enrolled and age groups will be organized through the eighth grade level. The workshop sessions will be held Tuesday and Thursday mornings at the Marin Art and Garden Center for six weeks beginning July 7.

Improvement Club Presents Panel On Youth Conservation

Three Marin County officials, Sheriff Louis Mountanos, District Attorney William O. Weissich and Walter H. Busher, county probation officer, will participate in a panel discussion on "Conservation of Youth" at the meeting of the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday, April 7.

All three have had long experience in dealing with juveniles. Weissich, who has been district attorney since 1953, was deputy district attorney for three years and before that was in private practice in San Francisco and Marin counties. He was graduated cum laude from the University of San Francisco in 1946.

Busher, who was born in Marin County, was graduated from University of California where he majored in social welfare. He worked on the Migration Labor Camp project for the Farm Security Administration in Bakersfield. He served in the Navy four years during World War II, and after that was assistant probation officer in San Mateo. He became Marin County probation officer in 1951.

Mountanos, who became sheriff the first of this year, was previously Sausalito police chief. When he was appointed to that office in November of 1954 he was only 29 years of age, but he already had five years law enforcement experience behind him. He served more than three years in the Navy, and after that was in the Marines and for two years was sergeant of the guards. In 1950 he joined the Sausalito police department and served for a little more than a year. He then became a deputy sheriff. After two years he returned to the Sausalito force and became a sergeant.

In addition to the panel discussion, Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen, president, will present two San Rafael High School seniors, Richard Rowe and Ann Royle, who were members of the Model Legislature in Sacramento. Ann introduced the Assembly bill setting a 65-mile-an-hour speed limit. In the Senate a similar bill was presented by Richard Rowe. The measure was passed by the Legislature.

A tea under the chairmanship of Mrs. Leiton Elder will follow the program. On her committee are Mesdames Thomas C. Geary, James W. Shock, Carroll Thomas, Harold Geister, Lyle Smith and Sanford McLaughlin. Presiding at the tea tables will be Mesdames Marshall Baldwin, John K. Taylor, Robert E. Munter and Harry W. Johnson.

Check The Budget

Check your long-range budget before deciding on the style of a mink coat, says Gloria Stone, president of a fur salon. A mink should be good for nine or 10 years with just one remodeling, perhaps on the collar and sleeves. The woman who expects this much service from the coat should stick to simple, classic styles and average fullness. Only women who can buy a new fur every year or so can afford extreme styles, Mrs. Stone said.

Pt. Reyes Park Foes Ask Seaton Delay Action Till Their Stand Told

The West Marin Property Owners Assn. has wired Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton asking that further action on approving a federal recreation area for the Pt. Reyes Peninsula be withheld until the association can present its reasons for opposition.

The telegram, by R. D. Marshall of Laguna Ranch, chairman of the property owner group, declared:

"This rancher group requests you withhold further action until it presents to you its position and the reasons why this proposed' 28,000-acre park and recreation area could bring disaster to West Marin. These include destruction of the dairy and livestock industry, the vital RCA main trans-Pacific radio communication links, and a growing oyster and lumber industry. It also will uproot ranch families that have been on the land since the Spanish grants.

"And all this for a park and recreation area that offers minimal use at best.

"Already on record in opposing this park are the following: Marin County Board of Supervisors, Marin County Farm Bureau and the Marin Coast Chamber of Commerce."

Marshall, in a statement, outlined some of the arguments the West Marin group would like to present to the Interior Department against creation of the park, which would include all 45 miles of waterfront on the Pt. Reyes Peninsula.

He pointed out that Marin is not an industrial county, so the two-million-dollar dairy industry, the recently enlarged Sweet Lumber Co. sawmill operation, the Radio Corp. of America transmitting station, and the oyster packing plant loom large economically. All these, he claimed, would be damaged by taking 28,000 peninsula acres for a park.

The Pt. Reyes coastline wouldn't amount to much as a park, anyhow, Marshall contended.

"It's a lovely country and we who live there are fond of it," he said, "but we also recognize its moods and weather. The Pt. Reyes area definitely, and by authenticated reports, is one of the two foggiest areas in the United States, and unfortunately, 80 per cent of the annual fog is concentrated in the summer months. The wind velocity in the summer months maintains a steady 23 miles per hour—a velocity, according to U.S. Weather Bureau authorities, not exceeded at any other Weather Bureau measuring station except on high mountain peaks.

"The beach bottom is precipitous and this steep runoff is responsible for the treacherous undertows and rip-tides which make surf bathing, or even wading by young children, extremely hazardous.

"Frthermore, the waters off the ocean beach at Pt. Reyes are the coldest along the California coast."

Marshall suggested the National Park Service "move up the coast 30 miles, or 50 miles, or 100 miles and find the same steep cliffs, the same narrow beaches and the same off-sh[illegible] rocks." The only difference at farther north points, he said, is that they "have better weather, less fog, not quite so much summer wind and a great deal less of the treacherous undertow that makes this area so dangerous."

Besides, he suggested, "in most of these northern coastal areas . . . they may find a few hundred dollars worth of sheep grazing on the uplands, but but they won't be disturbing prize milk cows valued at better than a million and a quarter dollars."

Civic Center Opposition Hits Low Of Anonymous Letters

Anonymous letters are insidious, irresponsible and destructive. When only one is mailed, it can easily be disregarded, assigned to File 13.

But when a number of the letters are reproduced and mailed to a wide group of people, they can do harm in specific instances.

Thus it was this week that Walter Castro, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors, felt it necessary to answer an anonymous letter which was circulated about him. It was not that Walter objected for himself. It was because the letter was aimed at a county project, the civic center, that Walter feared bad effects if it was not answered promptly.

The unsigned letter, as most of them do, contained a small kernel of truth. It said that the civic center site had been available to the county at a price of $237,000 but that the county finally bought it for $417,000. During the time of negotiation, the letter went on, Castro had sold his garage business to Henry Scettrini. It hinted that something improper went on between Scettrini and Castro because Scettrini also owned the civic center site.

What the letter didn't say was that Castro was not a member of the Board of Supervisors at the time he sold his garage and that he was not a supervisor when the board decided not to buy the property at the lower price.

What then was the reason for the letter? Obviously to throw dirt on the civic center project.

We favor the civic center plan as being a necessary and sensible solution to the county's government housing problems. Yet we have fought for the right of opponents to speak and have a place in which to be heard, including this paper.

Now these opponents are resorting to such malicious activities as vicious anonymous letters. If there was a word of truth in the implications and insinuations, the author would be proud to sign them. Thus he admits by his anonymity that the impression the letters give is untrue.

Opposition to the civic center has hit a new low.

Beware Of Bats, They're Dangerous

We noticed an item last week about two boys in the East Bay being bitten by a bat. Since the bat permitted itself to be picked up, it presumably was ill, most likely with rabies. Fortunately, the lads received the Pasteur treatment directly and there is no need to worry about them.

We do worry a bit about cases which might go unreported until it was too late. All bats are potential carriers of rabies. This is a development of recent years. Previously, the vampire bats of Mexico and Central America were known to be carriers, but the common insectivorous bats were relatively free of the disease. However, this is no longer the case. Through neglect and ignorance, deaths have occurred from ordinary bat bites.

It would seem to us to be a policy of wisdom to warn our children at home and at school of the dangers involved in playing with bats, unless under the supervision of a knowledgable adult.

We like our Marin bats. They are fascinating creatures. But it would be foolhardy to deny they are potentially dangerous.

HOW TO LIVE A FULL LIFE

A ife expectancy of 150 years was recently predicted by Doctor Norman Phillips, a British physician.

He claims that human organs and tissues are capable of lasting a century and a half, if they are given the proper care and are not damaged by disease.

According to Doctor Phillips, these four habits are the key to longevity:

1. Moderation in eating, drinking and smoking.
2. Sufficient rest and exercise.
3. Regular medical check-ups.
4. Useful interests.

All these requisites are essential. But the fourth is of special importance. Living a "useful" or purposeful existence is vital for those interested in making their stay on earth a rich, full and healthy one, both in body and soul.

Develop your spiritual and intellectual powers and you will be assured of leading a worthwhile life, whether it be long or short.

"It is now the hour for us to rise from sleep. For now our salvation is nearer than when we believed." (Romans 13:11)

How Many Of These Performers Does Your Office Circus Have?

NEW YORK (AP) — The greatest remaining indoor circus in America is the average business office.

It has more acts than Barnum and Bailey ever dreamed of. But one of the best sideshows is watching how the animals in the office zoo go about starting their daily circus routine.

Here are some typical star performers you can see in action in your own office practically every morning:

Alibi Ike — "The Doc told me I oughtta stay in bed at least a couple more days," he says on arrival. This means he really is too sick to work, and no matter what goes wrong during the day you can't blame him as he is a real hero to be there at all.

The Quick Change Artist—This ambitious secretary gets to the office five minutes early so she can erase her ride-the-bus face and replace it with her greet-the-boss face. As soon as the boss is in his sanctum, she goes downstairs to the drugstore and spends a half hour at breakfast.

The Supreme Organist — The initial problem of the boss is to decide which button to press among the row of buzzers on his desk. "Let me see," he muses, "who'll I scare first today?"

THE GUILTY INNOCENT—Feverishly he sets about doing work he should have finished yesterday, and he hopes nobody will find him out. What he doesn't realize is that 9 out of 10 people in the office still are putting off the work they should have done the day before yesterday.

The Boy Wonder — This pink-cheeked junior executive fidgets until 9:03 a.m., then bursts in on the boss to brag about all the work he did at home the night before. The boss is impressed. He makes a mental note to fire the guy at the first opportunity — to safeguard his own job.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Why Both Draft And Recruiting

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the 21 March column "What Our Readers Say," F. P. Sherry asked the qeustion "Why Recruiting and Draft Both?" This question is a welcome one to the United States Army Recruiting Service as it offers us an opportunity to explain the reasons why both of these activities are essential to our national defense.

Purpose of the draft is to give our young men who are physically, mentally and morally fit a two-year period of training in the fundamentals of Army service. During this time they become familiar with weapons of many kinds, equipment, military conduct and law, drill and field maneuvers and they gain a basic knowledge of specific Army occupational fields essential to the successful conduct of Army operations in time of war.

Equally as important, they learn to live, work and get along with their fellow soldiers as members of a team. They also learn adult responsibility which is of great benefit to themselves, their communities and country whether they be in or out of the military service.

On completion of the two-year tour required by the draft, a majority of these young men revert to civilian status as members of the Army Reserve Forces. As such they are required to regularly attend reserve meetings where they are kept abreast of new techniques and developments in their particular Army occupational field. This training, both in and out of uniform enables them, in time of mobilization, to step from civilian to military ranks with speed and efficiency.

The recruiting of career soldiers for the Regular Army has been a most important part of the Army operation since before the Revolutionary War. During its long and honorable service to the nation, in peace and in emergencies, the Army has always depended upon its experienced career men to build and maintain its efficiency. These men have formed the hard core upon which recruits have been molded into competent, efficient and successful units of men necessary to carry out the numerous technical and specialized assignments of the Army. The experienced soldier has never failed to accomplish this mission.

The necessary experience for a thoroughly trained specialist can hardly be gained in a tour limited to two years in view of the considerable time required in processing and orientation, basic training and unit training in the United States or at overseas stations. This leaves a comparatively short time for specialist development. As a consequence, the two-year man can absorb but a surface knowledge of an Army specialized career field.

On the other hand, the man who is enlisted by a recruiter for three years or longer, goes through the same basic procedures and training but with the advantage to himself and to the Army of increased experience, a greater familiarity with his specialty, and a more military attitude toward the needs of the service. In a large number of cases, this creates a desire to remain in the Army as a career soldier.

While the great savings in money effected by three-year enlistments over those of two years is readily apparent, there are equally great savings in manhours of processing, training, specialized instruction, administration and other time consuming operations upon which a dollar value cannot accurately be set. A rapid turnover in personnel is obviously as uneconomical in the Army as it is in private industry.

For increased economy, efficiency and national security the Army continues to recruit career soldiers. For more successful and economic operation, private industry seeks to recruit career employees.

Abolition Of Vet Services Opposed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am enclosing a copy of a letter which I forwarded to our representatives in the Senate and Assembly of the state of California.

". . . I am concerned about the proposed cigarette and beer tax and the abolishment of the County Veterans' Service Officer and field men; also the $1,000 tax exemption for a veteran.

"The proposed taxes mentioned above are an increase on small-income persons and the abolishment of the above mentioned expenses have been a benefit for the persons who in time of need and emergency have offered and given their lives to their country for a pittance. While others, who could not for various reasons offer their services or lives, made an abundance of the worldly goods by drawing salaries or profits which were all out of proportion with those who made it possible for them to live in a free and democratic country.

"There are other means to increase the revenues and decrease the expenses of the state of California. . . ."

War With Soviet Union Looks Far Off, U.S. Is Ready, Say Those Who Know

WASHINGTON (AP) — War with the Soviet Union looks a long way off.

That seems the sensible interpretation to put on hitherto secret testimony of American military leaders before a committee of Congress.

For months there has been deep concern here and abroad as to whether the Berlin crisis might lead to conflict with the Soviet Union.

But the Joint Chiefs of Staff painted for the House Appropriations Committee in secret a picture of such overwhelming American power that the U.S.S.R. would look crazy doing anything to cause a war if—.

THERE ARE a couple of big "ifs."

The Soviets would be crazy to start a war if they are as convinced of America's military power as are the joint chiefs, and if no one in the Soviet Union loses his head in a way that would cause war.

The chiefs' testimony, after security censoring, was released in part Monday. It can be summed up this way:

The U.S.S.R. would be flattened by America's nuclear bombs if war started.

The chiefs said American military power—built around long-range bombers, missiles and missile-launching submarines — is growing at a pace to deter any Soviet military adventure in the future.

THE JOINT chiefs didn't discount the Soviet Union's ability to have wide-ranging missiles in the future, but right now, they said, any Soviet nuclear attack would have to be done almost entirely with manned bombers.

Defense Secretary Neil McElroy backed up the chiefs, said this country's power is enough to destroy the Soviet Union if it attacked.

Then he predicted:

"We believe that our planned military programs will keep us, as we are now, ahead of the Soviet Union in overall strength at any projected point in the future."

Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex) — chairman of the subcommittee which heard the military leaders — added:

"I think it is important for everybody to know that we have a terrific capability for launching an unstoppable counteroffensive if attacked."

McElroy's predictions — plus the statements by the chiefs and by Mahon — did more than just reassure those who might have been worrying about war with the Soviet Union any time soon.

THEY ALSO FRIED some other fish for the Eisenhower administration by taking some of the steam out of Senate Democrats' arguments that President Eisenhower, in his search for economy, is putting too little money into defense and that in a short time he will be at a missile disadvantage with the U.S.S.R.

Still, all these self-confident statements may make new difficulties for the administration in its efforts to seek a peaceful solution with the Soviet Union over the Berlin crisis which the Soviets created.

There is already a lot of talk in the air about making concessions to the Soviets to pacify them in their demands that the Western Allies get their troops out of West Berlin.

THERE ARE plenty of opponents of concessions to the Soviets and they may well ask now, if American military power is so overwhelming, how can the administration justify any concessions to the Soviets, if concessions are made?

The testimony, perhaps only by coincidence, was made public just as the representatives of American's 14 allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization were coming to Washington to discuss the Berlin situation.

The smaller West European nations understandably may have been jittery about the possibility of war with the Soviet Union. The testimony of the chiefs must have had some reassuring effect on them.

'Commuter' Has Own Way Of Making A Living—Highly Illegal

The break-up of one of Marin's more unusual "commute operations" should give more peace and rest to lawmen in Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley.

It seems local police departments had been slightly maddened in recent months by a string of at least 20 cash burglaries. Though the losses had been small, the constant repetition of the nocturnal visits was beginning to grate on nerves.

Last Sunday night the suspect in the thefts was surprised in an East Blithedale service station by an alert officer, Carl E. Mead Jr. of the Mill Valley police department.

The suspect, Michael Robert Parkhurst, 20, admitted the unusual commute operation.

According to Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark the fellow first began the burglaries using a car to go from his Sixth Street hotel in San Francisco to Marin.

Later something happened to his car and Parkhurst said he began using Greyhound for his occasional commutes for the early morning robberies.

Asked what he did with the money, Parkhurst said he used the small returns for food and hotel rent. He said his parents had "split-up" and he no longer knew where they were.

The suspect's poor financial condition apparently explains why some night several businesses were entered.

When the first store had little or nothing he apparently would continue work until he got enough money for bus fare and food.

SPEAKING OF commute operations, we had a real doozy pass the desk the other day.

Put out by an unidentified East Bay railroad fan, the news release in question virtually foams at the mouth over the "new and horrible montrosity — the Crosstown Freeway."

It denounces "worshippers of the automobile" and "squandering of millions of dollars" by the state Department of Public Works in providing new "unneeded and unwanted freeways." Practically shouting, it says "Our Bay Area is rapidly being Los Angelized. That vicious trend must be stopped!"

The sheet calls for creation of a rapid transit system to stop the slaughter of downtown buildings.

GOLLY, THIS HARKS us back to our younger days when we felt quite remorseful about the passing of the "Big Red Cars" of the Pacific Electric in Southern California and the long-distance cars of the Sacramento Northern that once rolled as far north as Chico.

Even now, though, the idea of riding a new extensive rail transit system is inviting.

But wonder we, can any such plan really stop the automobile? The decentralization of the Los Angeles area along with the rise of the auto sealed the doom of the Red Cars. I suspect too that modern cars and highways will seal the doom of any inter-urban transit system now envisioned.

The transit system proposed is often held as an answer to urban congestion; yet it is obviously an inter-urban system.

IT IS QUITE amazing — the favorable lip service the proposed rapid transit plan has received. A recent action of the board of the California State Automobile Assn. endorsed the use of Bay Bridge surpluses, which is another word for tolls, for use in building a tube for transit use.

This seems almost a betrayal to the members of the organization in that defense has usually been made against such raids on funds accumulated by auto users.

As for the predicted "complete clogging" of downtown by the auto, that has never been proven.

BENNETT CERF

Toots Shor, New York's plumpest restaurateur boarded a taxicab far downtown, and asked the driver, "Know of a decent restaurant in this burg? I'm a stranger here." "Yes sir," said the cabbie. "One of the great eating places in this whole world is Toots Shor's on 51st street, I'll drive you straight there."

At the conclusion of the journey, Toots was so pleased that he slipped the cabbie a ten-spot, saying "Keep the change."

"T'anks," said the driver. "T'anks indeed, Mr. Shor!"

Clarence Darrow once was having the devil of a time pinning a hostile witness down to some semblance of a coherent story. Challenged directly, the witness whined, "How can you doubt my word, Mr. Darrow? I am wedded to the truth."

"Ah," nodded Darrow with a significant side-glance to the jury "and how long have you been a widower?"

'Why Is So Much Done For Bad, So Little For Good?' Asks Mom

Do you ever feel that way this mother does?

"I keep hearing about the problem students at school," she says. "But I never hear about the young people who have no problems. Doesn't anyone care about them? I went to a high school open house. I asked the teacher how my boy could raise a 'B' grade to an 'A.' She told me not to worry. He had no problems.

"The same boy had a nasty fall and broke a bone. We went to the nurse, but she didn't listen to him. She told me later that he was not a problem boy; therefore she hadn't listened to him carefully. Don't students who have no serious problems deserve attention? Why is so much done for the bad ones and so little for the good?"

Let me start by saying that I am inclined to agree with you. My own children are normal. Watching them I sometimes feel as you do. But I've a handicap. I'm also a guidance counselor. I'm sadly aware of a large number of children the schools are supposed to educate. The teachers are overloaded. Nurses are overloaded. Counselors are overloaded. They can't get to all the children. They try, but they fail.

So the boys and girls most in need get the attention. It may not be entirely fair. But it is inevitable. A change for the better is coming. Federal and state governments are putting up money to improve things. School guidance systems are being overhauled. Schools now will be trying to give normal children better guidance and better teaching. If they don't we'll never catch up with Russia.

Do you have a younger son? He'll get better breaks in high school than the boy you write about is receiving. Watch and see.

Brown Signs First Of Tax Measures

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown has signed the first of his proposed tax measures into law.

Brown yesterday signed a bill by Assemblyman Thomas J. MacBride (D-Sacramento) to advance insurance tax payments and bring the budget for the current fiscal year $55,600,000.

The bill, passed unanimously by both houses, will take effect immediately.

Brown said it would reduce the anticipated $68,400,000 deficit in the current fiscal year by $55,600,000. He pointed out that the deficit "was inherited from the budget of the outgoing Republican administration."

6 Parties File Findings In Big Water Dispute

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Five western states and the federal government have filed proposed findings in the lengthy legal dispute over water claims in the Colorado River's lower basin.

They were received in New York City yesterday by Simon H. Rifkind, the special master who presided over the two-year trial of the suit brought against California by Arizona in 1952.

Also involved are Nevada, New Mexico, Utah and the U. S. government, all of whom have claims in the lower basin.

DECISION PENDS

Rifkind was appointed by the U. S. Supreme Court to make a recommendation in the case. He will be given more briefs on June 1, but his decision is not expected for at least another year.

The proposed findings were drawn by the parties from 22,000 pages of testimony taken in San Francisco during the trial. Arizona drew the conclusion that California's claims should be slashed by 1,500,000 annual acre feet—about the annual domestic consumption of Los Angeles.

Arizona declared at the opening of the case that a water shortage threatened it with "disaster" and the "future of the state" was a stake.

MOSK CHARGE

But California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk charged in Los Angeles yesterday that "an early shortage of water may confront the entire lower basin" if Arizona wins.

Mosk said Arizona covets the water to operate its proposed Central Arizona Project in the Phoenix area—even though there isn't enough water available to run existing projects.

Northcutt Ely, California's chief counsel, maintained that present California water projects "shouldn't be crippled just to make possible the building of a new one in Arizona."

ARIZONA'S CLAIM

Arizona is seeking clear title to 2,800,000 annual acre feet from the Colorado, plus half of any surplus, plus clear title to at least one million acre feet in the Gila river.

California clamis 5,362,000 annual acre feet.

Other participants in the dispute are making the following acre-foot claims in the lower basin: Nevada, 800,000; New Mexico, 140,000; Utah, 125,000, and the U. S. government, 1,500,000.

Total claims in the suit by all parties add up to nearly 11,727,000 acre feet a year—but only about 5,859,000 acre feet is available in the whole basin.

Driver Must Pay $500 Or Get 50 Days

Robert J. Straight, 47, of Sonora, convicted of drunken driving twice this month, must spend 10 days in Marin County Jail and another 50 days if he does not pay a $500 fine.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Municipal Court sentenced Straight Tuesday.

On March 20, Straight had been convicted of drunken driving in Marin and drew probation. The next day, he was caught drunken driving again on Sir Francis Drake boulevard in San Anselmo. The judge ordered 10 days jail and a $250 fine for the later offense, then revoked probation on the first conviction and slapped another $250 fine on Straight.

Three other drunken drivers were fined by Judge Sims.

Winfield Alexander McFarren, 47, of 78th Installation Squadron, Hamilton Air Force Base, drew a $250 fine and one year probation for drunken driving on Black Point cutoff last March 21. A prior conviction in December, 1948, was stricken from the records.

Audley Martin Redlin, 29, of 57 Bayview avenue, Mill Valley, paid a $200 fine for drunken driving at Highway 101 and Madera boulevard at Corte Madera last March 22.

Loren Rafael Nowell, 30, of 10 Heather way, Mill Valley drew 90 days probation and a $250 fine. Nowell was arrested on Tiburon boulevard on March 11.

Hawaii Vote June 27

HONOLULU (UPI)—Gov. William F. Quinn yesterday set June 27 for the required Hawaiian statehood plebiscite and the same date for primary elections to select candidates for Congress and new state offices.

The general election for Congress and state officers will be held July 28, Quinn announced.

New Hospital Policy Begins April 28

The long-discussed personnel policy statement approved last week by the directors of the Marin County Hospital District has been approved for inauguration on April 26.

The new policy will set new base pay scales for 20 classes of hospital employees, including a raise of $10 per month in the pay of registered nurses.

The top pay for each of the 69 different positions at the hospital was set at an arbitrary 135 per cent of the base pay.

The text of the policy is to be printed and distributed to all of the 250 employees.

S. Ames Pence, hospital administrator, said he estimated yearly cost of the new policy would be $15,000.

Foreign Car Show Set In Mill Valley April 12

A foreign car show will be held on Mill Valley's Alto School grounds April 12, Mrs. Hughes Call, chairman, announced today.

It will be a fund-raising event to help send a Tamalpais High School student abroad this summer under auspices of the Experiment in International Living, Mrs. Call said.

The show will start at 11 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

"We have sent out requests to foreign car dealers and private owners inviting their participation," Mrs. Call said. "We hope that all foreign car owners will enter their cars for display or as a part of the judging program."

Judging will be by Josh Hoag, Bay Area sports car columnist, she said.

In addition to the showing of cars, there will be an opportunity to have a ride in several late models, be photographed in a car of one's choice, see sports car films and have luncheon, she said.

Assisting Crs. Call in preparations are Mrs. Schultz Engelhart and Mrs. Charles Putney.

Helicopter Drops In At PG&E Offices

A Pacific Gas and Electric Co. helicopter dropped in yesterday morning at the company's San Rafael service center at Second and Lindaro streets to pick up D. K. Stuart, division electric superintendent, for a routine inspection of a main transmission line running from the Vaca-Dixon substation in the Sacramento Valley to the Fulton substation north of Santa Rosa.

Cub Scouts To Skate

About 35 youngsters from Cub Scout Pack 8 are expected to meet at Sausalito's city park at 7:15 p.m. tomorrow for a trip to Sutro's ice skating rink in San Francisco. Cubmaster Robert R. Schultz will lead a caravan of parents' cars on the skating trip.

It takes three to 10 centuries to build up an inch of topsoil, which can be washed away in a single storm.
